LECTURES ON THE ORGANIC DISEASES AND FUNCTIONAL DISORDERS OF THE STOMACH.

By G. BUDD, M.D., F.R.S., Professor of Medicine, King's College.

THE INFLUENCE OF TROPICAL CLIMATES ON EUROPEAN CONSTITUTIONS; including Practical Observations on the Nature and Treatment of the Diseases of Europeans on their Return from Tropical Climates.

By JAMES RANALD MARTIN, F.R.S., late Presidency Surgeon, and Surgeon to the Native Hospital, Calcutta.

New Edition, 8vo, cloth, 16s.

ON MORBID CONDITIONS OF THE STOMACH.

By C. HANDFIELD JONES, M.D., F.R.S.

With Coloured Plates, 8vo, cloth, 7s.

"It is the fruit of the most intelligent and painstaking pathological and clinical study of the morbid conditions of the stomach. Were we called upon to express in a summary manner our opinion of the work, we should describe it as the most valuable and successful attempt hitherto made to rest the etiology and symptomatology of stomach affections upon the basis of a sound and demonstrative pathology."—'The Lancet.'

"The reader will be glad to recognsie in so exact an investigator as Dr. Handfield Jones one who yet retains a firm faith in the curative power of drugs, and in the efficacy of a well-directed treatment. Whether, indeed, he be regarded as a physiologist, a minute investigator of morbid changes in structure, or a practical physician, the author of the work before us commands our high esteem, and we have great pleasure in commending the work itself to all classes of our medical readers."—'Medical Times and Gazette.'

"We have thus completed our notice of this philosophical work, which opens a new path altogether for the elucidation of stomach diseases. We trust the author will go on in the honourable track he has made for himself. He has given us a work which is calculated to be universally useful."—'Dublin Journal of Medical Science.'

COLLEGE OF PHYSICIANS

CLIMATE, WEATHER, AND DISEASE: being a Sketch of the Opinions of the most celebrated Ancient and Modern Writers with regard to the Influence of Climate and Weather in producing Disease.

By ALFRED HAVILAND, M.R.C.S.

With Four Coloured Engravings, 8vo, cloth, 7s.

HUMAN OSTEOLOGY. With Plates, showing the Attachments of the Muscles.

By LUTHER HOLDEN, F.R.C.S., Demonstrator of Anatomy at St. Bartholomew's Hospital.

8vo, cloth, 16s.

"Mr. Holden's book should be in the hand of every medical pupil the moment he commences his preliminary career, so that he may enter upon his metropolitan studies with the enormous advantage of 'knowing the bones,' and so be able to set to work at once on 'the subject.'"—'Association Medical Journal.'

"We exclaimed, on examining the illustrations and text, 'How strange this was not thought of before!' and so it really seems, for a more simple or complete mode of learning osteology cannot be conceived. The bones are presented in faithful lithographs, and the exact origins and insertions of the muscles indicated respectively by red and blue lines on the surface of the bone. Every student should have this work."—'The Lancet.'

"The book is profusely illustrated with plates; and in order to assist the student to the recollection of the origins and insertions of muscles, those spots are distinguished by red and blue lines on the plates. This novel feature in Mr. Holden's book will be duly appreciated as a powerful aid to the memory."—'Medical Times and Gazette.'

ON SOME OF THE DEVELOPMENTAL AND FUNCTIONAL RELATIONS OF CERTAIN PORTIONS OF THE CRANIUM.

Selected by Dr. PAVY from the Lectures on Anatomy delivered at Guy's Hospital, by JOHN HILTON, F.R.S.

With Nine Plates, 8vo, cloth, 6s.

"As may be expected from Mr. Hilton's experience as a teacher, these remarks are highly interesting to every student of anatomy."—'Medical Times and Gazette.'

"These notes are by no means dry details of the anatomy of the cranial bones, but are interesting disquisitions on various surgical and physiological problems."—'Medico-Chirurgical Review.'

ON THE ACTION OF MEDICINES ON THE SYSTEM.

By F. W. HEADLAND, M.B., B.A., F.L.S.

Second Edition, revised, with Additions, 8vo, cloth, 10s.

"The very favourable opinion which we were amongst the first to pronounce upon this essay has been fully confirmed by the general voice of the Profession, and Dr. Headland may now be congratulated upon having produced a treatise which has been weighed in the balance, and found worthy of being ranked with our standard medical works."—'Lancet.'

ON LEUCORRHŒA; ITS PATHOLOGY AND TREATMENT.

By W. TYLER SMITH, M.O.,
Physician-Accoucheur to St. Mary's Hospital.

With Engravings, 8vo, cloth, 7s.

"This volume is of very great value; it contains matter of importance which is really original. It is a book which ought to be in the hands of all interested in obstetrical studies. The whole Profession must be gratified to see the true spirit of science carried into the troubled questions in regard to leucorrhœa, and to observe the great progress recently made in the investigation."—'Monthly Journal of Medicine.'

"Very valuable, both in a scientific and a practical point of view."—'Association Medical Journal.'

"The foregoing cursory examination of Dr. Tyler Smith's work will be sufficient to prove its value, and, we hope, more than enough to induce every practitioner to study it for himself. A blind attachment to a routine practice has hitherto often rendered the treatment of leucorrhœa nugatory, if not baneful; for the future, however, our practice must be more successful, since it will be guided by the light of science."—'The Lancet.'

"From the perusal of this work we have derived infinite satisfaction. We regard it as the most valuable, and, in every respect, as the best treatise which has yet appeared on the subject."—'Dublin Quarterly Journal.'

ON ARTIFICIAL LIMBS, THEIR CONSTRUCTION AND APPLICATION.

By HENRY HEATHER BIGG,

Anatomical, Surgical, and Orthopædic Mechanician to the Government Hospitals of Chelsea, and Greenwich, &c.

With Engravings on Wood, 8vo, cloth, 3s.

"The author has done well to publish his experience at the present time."—'Lancet.'

"The surgeon who desires to procure an artificial limb for a patient may consult Mr. Bigg's pamphlet with advantage."—'Medical Times.'

"Every Medical man must have felt at some time or other the necessity of possessing such information as this book conveys."—'Medical Circular.'

ON THE DISEASES OF CHILDREN.

Translated from the French of M. BOUCHUT,

With Notes and Additions,

By PETER HINCKES BIRD, F.R.C.S.

8vo, cloth, 20s.

"The English reader is much indebted to Mr. Bird for bringing M. Bouchut before their notice in so complete and satisfactory a form: we recommend the work very strongly to the Student of Medicine in particular."—'Medico-Chirur. Review.'

"We most cordially thank the translator and annotator for introducing this really good work to the notice of British Practitioners. M. Bouchut's treatise is now presented to the Profession in an accessible form, and, with the copious notes added, it is indeed well worthy of a place in our libraries."—'Edinburgh Medical Journal.'

"The introduction of M. Bouchut in an English dress is one that should be cordially welcomed. It is a complete encyclopædia. It possesses certain recommendations that constitute it the best work in our language for the Student and the Practitioner, and we most cordially recommend M. Bouchut's treatise as thus presented to us by Mr. Bird."—'The Lancet.'

THE DISEASES, INJURIES, AND MALFORMATIONS OF THE RECTUM.

By T. J. ASHTON,

Surgeon to the Blenheim-street Dispensary;
formerly House-Surgeon at University College Hospital.

8vo, cloth, 8s.

"We can conscientiously declare, that we find in it more information than is to be obtained from any single volume yet published on the subject of which it treats."—'Lancet.'

"It is the most complete of all the works at present under consideration."—'New York Journal of Medicine.'

"Mr. Ashton's work is by a man who evidently knows his subject practically, and has enjoyed ample opportunities of illustrating his statements by cases which have fallen under his own observation. His book will do much to rescue a large class of diseases from the hands of ignorant impostors."—'Medical Times and Gazette.'

"It may be consulted with much advantage by those who are engaged in the treatment of diseases of the rectum and anus."—'Association Medical Journal.'

"We know of no work in the English language so complete and practical in all its bearings, and we conclude by strongly recommending it to every Surgeon as a valuable treatise on a most important class of diseases."—'Medical Circular.'

"We recommend the volume to our Medical brethren, regarding it as a most useful and valuable addition to our literature, and are certain that it will conduce to its author's reputation as a practical surgeon."—'Half-Yearly Abstract of the Medical Sciences.'

By DANIEL NOBLE, M.D.,
Visiting Physician to the Clifton-hall Retreat, Manchester.

Second Edition, Revised and Enlarged, 8vo, cloth, 10s.

"This work the author (though not according in everything it contains) would strongly recommend to the perusal of everyone entering upon the practice of the Profession."—Dr. Carpenter, in Preface to the Fifth Edition of his "Human Physiology."

"We are disposed to believe that this volume will become, at no distant time, a manual for the student, as well as book of reference and authority to those practically engaged in the difficult and delicate branch of psychological medicine."—'Dublin Quarterly Journal.'

"By far the best elementary treatise on the subject with which we are acquainted, and one whose perusal we can strongly recommend alike to the medical practitioner, the law-administrator, the law-maker, and the student of human nature."—'Westminster Review.'

"One of the most valuable works on psychological medicine in any language. It is well written, highly philosophical, and eminently practical."—'Association Medical Journal.'

ON THE DISORDERS OF INFANTILE DEVELOPMENT AND RICKETS; preceded by Observations on the Nature, Peculiar Influence, and Modifying Agencies of Temperaments.

By A. SCHOEPF MEREI, M.D.,

Lecturer on the Diseases of Children at the Chatham-street School of Medicine, Manchester.

8vo, cloth, 6s.

"We have read Dr. Merei's work with great pleasure, and we strongly recommend it to our readers. It is no small merit to have so conquered the difficulties of the English language, and still more in a foreigner, to have so conformed to our habits as to have made a place and a name for himself among the distinguished practitioners of this country."—'Dublin Quarterly Medical Journal.'

"The volume of Dr. Merei is one which will well repay perusal. Dr. M. is evidently a thinking and an experienced physician. We are convinced that few of our readers will form an acquaintance with the contents of the volume without associating with it a highly favourable opinion of the skill and capacity of the writer."—'Edinburgh Medical Journal.'

"We should gladly fill another column with extracts from Dr. Merei's clever book, but our space forbids more than our recommending it to all the medical book-clubs in the kingdom."—'Medical Times and Gazette.'

THE DIAGNOSIS OF DISEASES OF THE BRAIN, SPINAL CORD, AND THEIR APPENDAGES.

By J. RUSSELL REYNOLDS, M.D.

8vo, cloth, 8s.

"In introducing this class-book on the diagnosis of nervous diseases, Dr. Reynolds has conferred a valuable boon on the Profession, and whilst he exhibits the true path leading to the investigation of morbid action, he never leaves an obscure term or difficult remark without an explanation so full, copious, and explicit, that he who fails to attain the meaning of the writer must attribute the fault rather to his own inattention than to any obscurity in the language or style of the author."—'Dublin Journal of Medical Science.'

"We have had much pleasure in perusing Dr. Reynolds' work. The plan followed is that best adapted for a philosophical arrangement of diseases of the nervous system, and Dr. Reynolds has brought it nearer to perfection than any author we are acquainted with."—'Edinburgh Medical Journal.'

UNSOUNDNESS OF MIND, IN ITS MEDICAL AND LEGAL CONSIDERATIONS.

"We have much pleasure in recommending Mr. Dixon's book as a sound 'Guide' to the study of Eye Diseases."—'Edinburgh Medical Journal.'

"We strongly recommend this book to the perusal of the Profession, because it contains the results of much careful observation; and, for the student, we have seen no work better adapted as a practical introduction to the study of ophthalmic diseases."—'Medical Times and Gazette.'

"All who have attended Mr. Dixon's clinique at the Moorfields Ophthalmic Hospital, will be prepared for the remarkable excellence of this work. . . . . We must content ourselves with expressing our strong conviction that this is a work of sterling and permanent value, carrying all the weight that belongs to years of skilful experience, and deserving, even as a handbook, to rank with the best practical monographs in our language."—'The Lancet.'

LETTSOMIAN LECTURES ON INSANITY.

By FORBES WINSLOW, M.D., D.C.L.

8vo, cloth, 5s.

"In the department of Psychological Medicine, no man has exerted himself more than Dr. Winslow has done, and few have contributed so much to its advancement. The Profession owe him a deep debt of gratitude for his very valuable labours in everything connected with insanity and the diseases of the mind."—'Glasgow Medical Journal.'

"These Lectures contain an amount of matter invaluable of its kind, and well worthy of its eminent writer, whose untiring labours in promoting the increased well-being and welfare of the insane entitle him to hold a high rank among the philanthropists and bright lights of the age."—'Dublin Quarterly Journal of Medical Science' for November.

"Never before have the chief points connected with psychological medicine and law been stated in a manner so clear and vigorous, and so argumentative, as in these admirable lectures. The medical practitioner will find in this work more of guiding principles, more exact and rational rules for the formation of his judgment, and the determination of his conduct, than in any other work on mental diseases. Dr. Winslow has by his writings given a great impetus to an enlarged and liberal study of the philosophy of insanity, cerebral pathology, and medical psychology, and has contributed more than any other man of his day to the dissemination of an improved, enlightened, humane and curative treatment of the insane.—'Lancet.'

By LANGSTON PARKER,
Surgeon to the Queen's Hospital, Birmingham.

Third Edition, 8vo, cloth, 10s.

"Those who have to contend against this most frequent disease cannot do better than consult Mr. Parker's very useful work. His treatment appears to us highly judicious."—'British and Foreign Medico-Chirurgical Review.'

"The third edition of Mr. Parker's valuable treatise may be almost regarded as a new work, so much is it extended and improved. It contains the result of twenty years' experience in the treatment of syphilis, during which period the author states that he has personally treated more than eight thousand cases. In it the Profession is presented with an admirable collection of cases, carefully tabulated and indexed. Mr. Parker's opinions are moderate and judicious, and we consider that he takes a sound view of the mercurial and non-mercurial treatment of the disease."—'Dublin Quarterly Journal of Medical Science.'

"His work throughout bears evidence of an intimate acquaintance with the principles of general pathology, and of the sound common sense which characterizes the British school of ophthalmic medicine, and which strongly contrasts with the fancies and conceits promulgated at some of the Parisian cliniques."—'American Journal of Medical Science.'

"It must have cost Mr. Walton much labour, but he has already been rewarded, for it stamps his character at once as a sound and experienced ophthalmic surgeon.—'Medical Times and Gazette.'

By ISAAC BAKER BROWN, F.R.C.S.,
Surgeon Accoucheur to St. Mary's, Hospital.

With Plates, 8vo, cloth, 10s. 6d.

"The most valuable chapter in the book is that on Ruptured Perinæum. It is in the treatment of this distressing accident, which has long held a prominent place amongst the opprobria of Surgery, that Mr. Brown has, in our opinion, shown the greatest amount of originality, and in which his efforts have been rewarded with the greatest success."—'The Lancet.'

THE PRINCIPLES AND PRACTICE OF

OBSTETRIC MEDICINE AND SURGERY.

By F. H. RAMSBOTHAM, M.D.,

Consulting Physician in Obstetric Cases to, and Lecturer on Obstetric Medicine at, the London Hospital; Physician to the Royal Maternity Charity, &c.

"We regard this work, between accurate descriptions and useful illustrations, as by far the most able work on the principles and practice of Midwifery that has appeared for a long time. Dr. Ramsbotham has contrived to infuse a larger proportion of common sense, and plain unpretending practical knowledge into his work, than is commonly found in works on this subject; and as such we have great pleasure in recommending it to the attention of obstetrical practitioners."—'Edinburgh Medical and Surgical Journal.'

"This is one of the most beautiful works which have lately issued from the medical press; and is alike creditable to the talents of the author and the enterprise of the publisher. It is a good and thoroughly practical treatise; the different subjects are laid down in a clear and perspicuous form, and whatever is of importance is illustrated by first-rate engravings. A remarkable feature of this work, which ought to be mentioned, is its extraordinary cheapness."—'Edinburgh Journal of Medical Science.'

"This work forms a very handsome volume. Dr. Ramsbotham has treated the subject in a manner worthy of the reputation he possesses, and has succeeded in forming a book of reference for practitioners, and a solid and easy guide for students. Looking at the contents of the volume, and its remarkably low price, we have no hesitation in saying that it has no parallel in the history of publishing."—'Provincial Medical and Surgical Journal.'

"It is the book of Midwifery for students; clear, but not too minute in its details, and sound in its practical instructions. It is so completely illustrated by plates (admirably chosen and executed), that the student must be stupid indeed who does not understand the details of this branch of the science, so far at least as description can make them intelligible."—'Dublin Journal of Medical Science.'

"Our chief object now is to state our decided opinion that this work is by far the best that has appeared in this country for those who seek practical information upon Midwifery, conveyed in a clear and concise style. The value of the work, too, is strongly enhanced by the numerous and beautiful drawings, which are in the first style of excellence."—'Medical Gazette.'

"Among the many literary undertakings with which the medical press at present teems, there are few that deserve a warmer recommendation at our hands than this work, we might almost say, the obstetrical library comprised in this single volume. Few works surpass Dr. Ramsbotham's in beauty and elegance of getting up, and in the abundant and excellent engravings with which it is illustrated."—'Lancet.'

On the 1st of January, 1856, was published, price 3s. 6d.

No. 1 of a New Series

OF THE

PSYCHOLOGICAL JOURNAL.

EDITED BY

FORBES WINSLOW, M.D., D.C.L. Oxon.

The first number of the "Psychological Journal" appeared in January, 1848. It has now reached its 32nd Number, and 8th Volume. It was deemed advisable, for many reasons,

TO COMMENCE IN JANUARY, 1856,

A

NEW SERIES OF THE JOURNAL,

with the view of enabling the Editor to introduce into this Quarterly Journal some important Alterations and Improvements. The "Psychological Journal" for the future will be divided into distinct and special departments, embracing:

1. Original Communications on the Subject of Insanity and Mental Psychology.
2. Pure Psychology, Logic, and Medical Metaphysics.
3. Copious Analytical Notices of all British and Foreign Works on Psychology and Insanity.
4. Cerebral Physiology and Pathology.
5. Judicial Psychology.
6. Full Reports of all Lunacy Trials.
7. Psychological Intelligence.

DR. WINSLOW'S

PSYCHOLOGICAL JOURNAL.

No labour or expense will be spared by the Editor and his able contributors to make the New Series of the Journal complete in all its sectional departments. With this object a correspondence has been opened with the leading psychological physicians of FRANCE, GERMANY, and AMERICA; and offers of assistance have already been liberally made to the Editor by the leading men in each country, who have undertaken to supply him with all the recent works, pamphlets, public documents, and intelligence having reference to the subject of Psychology and the treatment of the insane. Without neglecting the investigation of questions connected with Medical-Psychology, Logic, and Mataphysics, it will be the principal object of the Editor to give the New Series of his Journal a decided practical character by the publication of a course of articles on the medical, moral, and judicial treatment of the insane, having particular reference to the organization and management of lunatic asylums, and the cure of insanity by therapeutic remedial agents. It will be the aim of the Editor to cultivate and invite a correspondence with all connected with the management of the insane as well as with those in and out of the Profession who have paid special attention to the study of Psychological Science and Mental Philosophy. Information of a practical bearing will be solicited from all quarters, with the object of making this Quarterly Journal the leading and recognised medium of psychological communication between thinking and experienced men of all nations. Literary assistance has been freely promised by several distinguished Jurists interested in the subject of insan ty, in its medico-legal aspects; and many of the Clergy, officially connected as chaplains with our Public Asylums and Hospitals, will also contribute valuable matter to our pages. From these varied sources of information, the Editor hopes to make each literary department of the "Psychological Journal" complete in all its important and essential features. A very large capital has already been expended in the establishment of this Journal, THE FIRST OF THE KIND PUBLISHED IN THIS COUNTRY. Until the appearance of this periodical, there existed in Great Britain no journal or publication devoted to the investigation of psychological subjects, and those engaged in the responsible and anxious duty of treating the insane possessed no special organ of communication. The "Psychological Journal" supplied this desideratum. The Editor trusts that these facts will not be overlooked or disregarded by the Public and the Profession, and that they will show, by liberally supporting the New Series, their kind appreciation of our labours to excite an interest in, and to extend a knowledge of, an important and hitherto neglected department of Medical Science and Philosophy.

MEDICAL ANATOMY.

By Francis Sibson, M.D., F.R.S.,

PHYSICIAN TO ST. MARY'S HOSPITAL.

"Dr Sibson has long and laboriously been qualifying himself for the publication of a work on Medical Anatomy. In the remarkable paper, indeed, to which we have referred, and which has been translated into German by Vogel, will be found a mass of observations, with careful illustrations, invaluable to the physician. We ourselves have had an opportunity of witnessing the exact manner in which Dr. Sibson makes his drawings from the dead body, and there can be little doubt that any series of plates, having the high stamp of his name, will in future be regarded as the great authority on all those points having reference to the natural and morbid positions of the various internal viscera of the body."—'Monthly Journal of Medical Science.'

The compilation of the Medical Directory for Ireland for 1856 has been a most difficult undertaking. It will be remembered that so little encouragement was given to the proprietor in 1855 that it was deemed advisable to postpone the publication until the present year. In consequence of the long interval between the last and the present edition, so many changes by death, removal, and retirement have taken place, and so many new practitioners have entered the profession, that the labour and difficulty have been quite equal to that which attended the first compilation of the work.

Nothing daunted, however, neither pains nor expense have been spared to ensure correctness in the present edition, and it is gratifying to us to be enabled to state that we have generally met with the hearty co-operation of our Medical Brethren in Ireland.

The plan upon which the Directory is compiled may be thus briefly stated. In the month of September we post the Annual Circular of interrogatories to every gentleman whose name appears in the Directory, and to every one whose name does not appear, as soon as the omission is made known to us. Through the same channel—the Annual Circular—we receive intelligence of all deaths, removals, &c., of which we make use; and thus, by applying as it were to the fountain-head, we obtain reliable information. Wherever we fail to get a return of our Annual Circular, a dagger is prefixed to the name to indicate the fact, as well as to shield ourselves from the charge of incorrectness. It is obvious that if every Circular were returned distinctly and properly filled up, or if, from the party to whom it was addressed being dead, it were returned to us through the Dead Letter Office, or if it were returned by some friend, not only the labour and difficulty of compiling the work would be greatly diminished, but its value would be proportionately increased, for no errors or imperfections could possibly exist. The extent of the co-operation we have received may be easily ascertained by reference to the names in the General List, and to all who have thus aided us in our undertaking we beg to tender our warmest gratitude and thanks.

January was placed as leader of the months by Numa Pompilius, when he added two months (January and February) to the Alban Calendar, though it was not admitted to the same precedence in this country until a motion was made to that effect on March 18, 1750. The name is derived from Janus, the god of the year, in the Roman mythology, to whom the day was sacred. The Romans sacrificed to Janus on the 9th day of this month, and to Jove on the 13th; and on the last, or 31st day of the month, they had a ceremony with their household gods, called diis penatibus. Janus presides over gates and avenues; thus symbolically he admitted the new year, and attended the departure of the old.

FEBRUARY was made the second of the twelve months by Numa Pompilius. Its name was derived either from Februs, a title which the Romans gave to the Feralia sacrifices; or more probably from Februs, to purify, because this being originally held to be the last month of the year, the people offered an expiatory sacrifice for their twelve months' sin. Feralia, or feast in honour of the Ghosts, was held on the 11th; the Lupercalia, in honour of Pan, the God of hunters, the shepherds, and country people, on the 18th; and the Terminalia, or feast in honour of the Terminus, the guardian of boundaries or landmarks, on the 22nd or 23rd of the month.

MARCH, which the ancients ranked the first month of the year, was named in honour of Mars, the supposed father of the founder of Rome. Our Anglo-Saxon ancestors called it Lenet-monath, that is Lentor Spring month. Marriages in this month were seldom solemnized, as they were counted likely to become inharmonious and unhappy. On March 15, or, according to the Roman Calendar, the Ides of March, was the Parricidium, the day on which Julius Cæsar was murdered in the senate-house by Brutus and Cassius, with other conspirators. The same day was also the feast of Anna Percuna, the sister of Dido, who fled into Italy to Æneas. On the Calends of March, the 1st of the month, was the Matronalia, kept by the matrons to the honour of Mars.

THE name of this month is derived from the Latin word, Aperio, to open or disclose. The term applies to the opening of the year, or to the unfolding of the buds and flowers, by the influence of the genial warmth and moisture of spring. The reason why our months, and many of our festivals, are to be ascribed to Roman designation and institutions, is the early footing which that people obtained in Britain, and the sanction that their customs received in consequence of the higher orders of British youths being sent to Rome for education.

THE Hebrews named this month of their Calendar, which is synonymous with the fifth of our own, Sivan, from a Sanscrit Word, signifying "to rejoice." The Anglo-Saxons knew it as Tri-milchi, because their cows, stimulated by the fresh herbage, were so productive of milk as to enable the proprietors with advantage to bring them to the pail three times a day. The Romans offered sacrifices to Bona Dea or Maia on the first day of the month.

JUNE was the Thamur or Tamuz of the Hebrews, that is, after their escape from the Babylonish captivity, for previously to that they had simply distinguished their months by aid of numeration. Thamur or Tamuz signifies continuance and perfection; alluding probably to the almost uninterrupted daylight, maturation of fruit, &c., which occur during its continuance.

JULY, the fifth month of the Roman Calendar, received in consequence the name of Quintilis, to denote its numerical position. It was sacred to Jupiter, and had in the Alban Calendar thirty-six days. Romulus took from it five days. Numa reduced it to thirty, but Julius Cæsar enlarged it to thirty-one, the present number. In honour of this conqueror Mark Anthony changed its name from Quintilis to Julius—hence our July. Our Saxon forefathers, who commonly named their months from certain appearances or events, denominated this month How monath, or Hey monath, since this was their hay harvest.

THIS month derived its name from Augustus, the Roman Emperor; it was called Sextilis, or the sixth month in the Alban Calendar, in which it had only twenty-eight days assigned to it. Romulus added two, and Augustus a third, which number it has since retained. The Anglo-Saxons called it either Barn monath, alluding to this being the period when their barns were commonly filled, or Wood monath, clothing month, alluding to their fields being then clothed with corn, just as the Romans dedicated this month to Ceres, the goddess of harvest.

IN the Latin and Roman Calendar, this was the seventh month; and hence its name, from Septem, seven, and imber, a shower of rain, this being the commencement of the rainy season. It had only sixteen days assigned to it in the Alban Calendar; those were increased to thirty by Romulus, to thirty-one by Julius Cæsar, but Augustus reduced it to its present number. The ancient Saxons called it Berst Monath, or Barley month.

OCTOBER was called by our Saxon forefathers Wyn monath, or Wine month, and sometimes Winter fylleth, from the approach of Winter. It was the eighth month of the Alban Calendar, in which it had thirty-nine days. Its name is derived from the Latin, Octo, eight, and imber, a shower of rain. Romulus reduced it to thirty-one days; Numa to twenty-nine. Julius and Augustus each added one, and this number has not since been altered.

THE early Saxon inhabitants of England called this Blott monath, or slaughter month, because, in those primitive days, winter food was so scarce in England, that it was usual to kill and salt the greater part of their winter meat in this month; they called it also Wind monath, or Wind month. Its name is derived from the Latin Novem, nine, and imber, a shower. It was so called in the Alban Calendar.

THE

1856.

THE EDITORS most earnestly and respectfully request that Gentlemen will return the "CIRCULAR," which is annually sent to them in August, IMMEDIATELY on its receipt, whether any alteration be required or not; the accuracy of the Directory mainly depending on the Annual Returns being duly and carefully made.

To escape the imputation of error or carelessness, the Editors feel it but due to themselves to distinguish by a mark thus (†) those who neglect to comply with this request. For the correctness of the entries so marked the Editors do not hold themselves responsible.

The "Supplemental List" consists of persons practising the Medical Profession in Ireland without any legal qualification, or who have not made a return of the same in reply to repeated applications, and whose names cannot be identified in the official list of any Corporate or Licensing Body in Great Britain or Ireland. We shall with much pleasure transfer the names of these Gentlemen to the regular list so soon as they make us a return of their qualifications, &c.

SUPPLEMENTAL LIST.

The following is a list of persons practising the Medical Profession in Ireland, who have not made any return of the naturo of their qualifications, in reply to repeated applications.

To those gentlemen in the list who may be legally qualified, we beg to express our regret at being compelled to omit them, for the reasons above mentioned, from the list of those who have made their qualifications known.

None can, with the slightest show of reason, complain, as it is from their own neglect or omission that we are unable to set forth their qualifications; and all must admit, that it would be inconsistent with the professed object of the work to include them in a "list of known qualified practitioners." Those who are qualified will, we trust, take care to be included in the general list for the future.

The Royal College of Surgeons in Ireland grants two different diplomas

—one conferring the rank of Fellow. and the other that of Licentiate. A Fellow is a member of the corporation, and entitled to vote at all elections for president, vice-president, and councillors, and also to be elected president, vice-president, or member of council. The Letters Testimonial granted to the Licentitate enables him to "exercise and enjoy all rights of practice in the art or sceince of surgery, or otherwise, which are commonly enjoyed by the Fellows, and to have free access to the Library and Museum of the College, and makes him eligible to the rank of Fellow, subject to specified regulations." Both Fellows and Licentiates are obliged to make and subscribe a formal declaration legally binding them to "observe and be obedient to the statutes, bye-laws, and ordinances of the College, and to the utmost of their power to promote its honour, reputation, and dignity." Fellows, in addition, declare that they "do not practise the business or profession of an apothecary or druggist, or indirectly sell drugs or medicines, and that they will not, while Fellows, practise such business or profession."

A student who proposes to become a Fellow or Licentiate of the College must first become a Registered Pupil, for which he pays a fee of five guineas; but he is permitted to postpone such entry as Registered Pupil and such payment until the period of his final examination.

The fees for the Diplomas are as follow:—For Fellowship, twenty-five guineas, in addition to the registration free of five guineas; thirty guineas in all. But if the candidate has already passed as a Licentiate, and paid the registration fee of five guineas, and twenty guineas the fee for Letters Testimonial (twenty-five in all), he is required to pay a Fellowship fee of ten guineas only, should he propose to become a Fellow. If a person becomes a Fellow at once, he pays thirty guineas; but if he commences as Licentiate and afterwards passes as Fellow, he pays thirty five guineas in all—viz.,five guineas registration fee. twenty guineas for Letters Testimonial, and ten guineas for Fellowship. For the Licence or Letters Testimonial alone, the candidate pays five guineas registration fee, and twenty guineas for the final examination—twenty-five in all. The student who becomes a Registered Pupil as soon as he commences his studies in Dublin. is thereby matriculated in the College, and entitled to its protection, aid, and guidance.

Fellowship.—The candidate for the Fellowship must be twenty-five years of age, and if not a graduate in arts of some university, must answer a classical examination, which is generally confined to the principal books read for entrance into Dublin University. He must have been six years engaged in professional study, three of which must have been in Dublin; and he must also have been a house-surgeon or dresser in an hospital. He is required to attend lectures on anatomy and physiology, and on surgery, with dissections, during three seasons; chemistry during two; and practice of medicine, materia medica, midwifery, medical jurisprudence, comparative anatomy, natural philosophy, and botany, for one course each. His hospital attendance must be three years at least. Bachelors of Arts, after five years' study, are admitted to examination on compliance with the above regulations, and Licentiates of the College of ten years' standing are also admitted, although they may not have been educated in strict conformity with them.

Letters Testimonial.—The candidate for Letters Testimonial is required, as has been already stated, to become a Registered Pupil, and to pass a classical examination. He is also required to prove that he has studied for three years in the metropolitan schools (nine months in each year), and for a fourth year either there or anywhere else, where he might have obtained professional information. His hospital attendance is by the bye-law declared to be three years "where clinical instruction is given," and all the Dublin hospitals are recognized. Credit is given for attendance on provincial hospitals, but it is expected that while the pupil is in attendance on lectures in Dublin, he shall, at the same time, attend an hospital there. Candidates for Letters Testimonial are also required to prove that they have attended three courses of lectures on anatomy and physiology, surgery, and practical anatomy (being demonstrations with dissections), two courses on chemistry, and one course on the practice of medicine, materia medica, midwifery, and medical jurisprudence.

Candidates both for Fellowship and Letters Testimonial are examined on the practice of medicine and pharmacy as well as on surgery. The Diploma is a full qualification as General Practitioner, entitling the holder of it to be appointed to county infirmaries, fever hospitals, dispensaries, poorhouses, and all other medical charities, and Licentiates of the College can dispense medicines to their own patients; but they cannot keep open shops, or retail drugs, or compound the prescriptions of other practitioners without the licence of the Apothecaries' Company. Both Fellows and Licentiates are authorized by law, and permitted by the charter, to compound and dispense medicines for their patients in the hospitals, dispensaries, and poorhouses to which they are attached. None but Fellows and Licentiates of this College are eligible to be appointed Surgeons of County Infirmaries in Ireland.

The College of Surgeons of Ireland is empowered by Charter to grant a Diploma in Midwifery to its own Fellows and Licentiates only, and does not recognise any of them as midwifery practitioners, or mark them as such in the printed lists of the College, unless they have had that Diploma granted to them.

Certificates granted by professors in universities which do not receive the certificates granted by the Professors in the College of Surgeons, are not recognised as qualification from candidates for either of the diplomas.

Returns of the names of those who have entered to attend lectures, are required to be forwarded to the College, by professors and lecturers, on 25th of November, and at such other periods during the session as the Council may think fit, which returns must certify that the students named therein are then attending regularly; and no certificate is received from any candidate for either of the diplomas unless his name appears in the returns corresponding to the date of such certificate. Professors or lecturers neglecting or refusing to make such returns, or who grant certificates to any student whose name has not been inserted in such returns, are not recognised.

Students are admitted to the classical examination required by the bye-laws without being required to become Registered Pupils, or to pay the Registration fee of five guineas; it being considered desirable that pupils on their first arrival in Dublin, and as soon as they can conveniently do so after leaving school, should pass this preliminary trial, and not postpone it until the period of their final examination for Letters Testimonial. They have only to present themselves at the College, and to pay a fee of five shillings to enable them to offer themselves; and if approved, the certificate required by the bye-laws to be produced by candidates for Letters Testimonial is granted to them. On payment of five guineas at any subsequent period, they are enrolled as Registered Pupils, and become entitled to study in the museum and library, and to attend the lectures on comparative anatomy. They are examined in the Gospel of St. John in the Greek Testament, and in the first five books of the Æneid of Virgil.

To meet a requirement of the Army Medical Board, a Professor of Logical Science has been appointed.

The following special or exceptional bye-laws and ordinances have been enacted :—

1. That to enable surgical students to devote more time to hospital attendance and dissection during the winter session, the lectures on materia medica, medical jurisprudence, practical chemistry, and botany, shall be delivered during the summer session in the School of the College and in the Schools recognized by the College; and certificates granted subsequent to the 30th April, 1851, shall not be received as qualification for Letters Testimonial, unless issued in conformity with this regulation.

2. Candidates for Letters Testimonial, who shall have attended metropolitan hospitals during three winter sessions of six months each, shall be considered to have performed sufficient hospital attendance, if they shall be able to produce certificates of regular daily attendance during a like number of months at a county infirmary, or provincial surgical hospital, containing at least fifty beds; provided the surgeons of such infirmaries or hospitals shall make returns to this College, in the months of May and November in each year, of the number of students so attending.

3. That the Council being anxious to encourage liberal education among candidates for Fellowship and Letters Testimonial, in future all graduates in arts of the University of Dublin, being Registered Pupils of the College of Surgeons, shall be admitted to the examinations for Fellowship and Letters Testimonial, provided they produce the certificates of surgical education required by the bye-laws; and of such course of education, the several certificates of the School of Physic now required by the regulations of the University, to be produced by candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Medicine, shall be received as part.

4. The candidates for Letters Testimonial of the College who shall produce certificates from the Council of one of the Queen's Colleges, that they have passed a full examination in the subjects of study prescribed in the course of matriculation for arts, and have been admitted matriculated students of the College in the faculty of medicine, shall be admitted to examination; provided they shall produce the certificates of surgical education required by the bye-laws of this College, and of such course of education the several certificates of the professors of the Queen's Colleges now required by the Senate of the Queen's University to be produced by candidates for the degree of Doctor of Medicine, shall be received as part; and also provided, that of the four years during which they shall have been engaged in the acquisition of professional knowledge, two shall have been passed in attendance on lectures and hospitals in Dublin, London, or Edinburgh.

5. With the view of facilitating the supply of surgeons for the army and navy during the continuance of the war, candidates for Letters Testimonial of the College who may not have been educated in strict conformity with the bye-laws of this College, shall be admitted to an examination, provided they satisfy the Council of the College that they have gone through a course of education fully equivalent to that required by the bye-laws of the College, now in force.

6. With the view of facilitating the supply of surgeons for the army and navy during the continuance of the war, lectures on medical jurisprudence and materia medica, delivered during the winter session, by lecturers recognised by the College, will be received as part of the qualifications for candidates for the Letters Testimonial of the College.

The educational bye-laws and ordinances in detail can be had at the College on application by post or otherwise.

This School, claiming priority of foundation many years before its kindred unchartered institutions were projected, was established in 1810, by J. Kirby. At this period the Schools of the College of Surgeons and University were the only sources of Medical education in Ireland, and this necessarily involved an absence of that competition always conducive to the true spirit of improvement. Since its foundation, this School has maintained its character for the sound principles of its anatomical and surgical instruction, and numbers amongst its former pupils several of the most distinguished teachers of the Irish School of Medicine.

Endowments in favour of Students, subject to the conditions prescribed by the Founder, in the following departments :—two in Anatomy and Physiology ; two in Minute Anatomy : two in Practical Anatomy, and one in Surgery. The usual prizes in the other departments will be awarded at the termination of the Session.

Certificates of attendance upon these lectures are recognised by the Queen's University, Ireland ; the King and Queen's College of Physicians ; by the London University ; the College of Physicians of London ; the Colleges of Surgeons in Dublin, London, and Edinburgh ; the University of Glasgow, as constituting an "Annus Medicus ;" the Faculty of Glasgow ; by the Army and Navy Medical Boards ; and the Apothecaries' Halls, London and Dublin.

THE EAST INDIA COMPANY'S MEDICAL SERVICE.

Secretary, Sir J. C. Melvill, K.C.B.

Physician to the Company, Dr. Scott, 13, Stratton-st. Piccadilly.

Members of the Board of Examiners, G. Busk, Dr. J. Hooker, J. Paget, Dr. E. A. Parkes.

All natural born subjects of her Majesty between twenty-two and twenty-eight years of age, and of sound bodily health, may be candidates for admission into the service of the East-India Company as Assistant-Surgeons. They must subscribe and send in to Dr. Scott, the Physician to the Honourable East India Company, ten days before the period fixed for each examination, a declaration to the following effect:

"I (Christian and Surname at full length), a candidate for employment as an Assistant-Surgeon in the service of the East-India Company, do hereby declare that I was years of age on the day of last, and that I labour under no constitutional disease or physical disability that can interfere with the due discharge of the duties of a Medical officer; and I also attest my readiness to proceed on duty to India within three months of receiving my appointment."

This declaration must be accompanied by the following documents:—1. Proof of Age either by extract from the Register of the Parish in which the candidate was born, or by his own declaration, pursuant to the Act 5 and 6 William IV, cap. 62. 2. A certificate of moral character from a magistrate, or a minister of the religious denomination to which the candidate belongs, who has personally known him for at least two preceding years. 3. A diploma in Surgery; or a degree in Medicine, provided an examination in Surgery be required for such degree; from some body competent by law to grant or confer such diploma or degree. 4. A certificate of having attended two courses of lectures, of six months each, on the practice of Physic, and of having attended, for six months, the practice and clinical instruction of the physicians at some hospital containing at least, on an average, one hundred in-patients; or of having attended one course of lectures, of six months, on the practice of Physic, and clinical instruction for twelve months. 5. A certificate of having attended for three months, the practical instruction given at one of the public Asylums for the treatment of the Insane. 6. A certificate of having attended, for three months, one of the institutions, or wards of an hospital especially devoted to the treatment of Ophthalmic disease. Candidates who may not have been able to attend the practice of an Asylum for the Insane, or of an Ophthalmic hospital, for three months previous to their offering themselves for examination, will not be excluded from examination, but will, if successful in obtaining recommendation for appointments, be required to produce certificates of having attended such practice during the interval between the examination and the time of proceding to India. 7. A certificate of having attended a course of lectures on Midwifery, and of having conducted at least six labours. 8. A certificate of having acquired a practical knowledge of cupping. Candidates may also, at their option, send in certificates of attendance at any hospitals, or on any course of lectures, in addition to the above. Attendance on a course of Military Surgery, and the practical study of surgical operations on the dead body, are recommended.

The examination will include the following subjects :—1. Surgery in all its departments. 2. Medicine, including the diseases of women and children, Therapeutics, Pharmacy, and Hygiene. 3. Anatomy and Physiology, including Comparative Anatomy. 4. Natural History, including Botany and Zoology.

The following are the books recommended—In Zoology and Comparative Anatomy; Outlines of the Structure of the Animal Kingdom, by Rymer Jones, or Cours Elémentaire d'Histoire Naturelle, par Milne Edwards—Botany: Lindlay's school botany, or Lindley's Elements of Botrny.

The examination will be conducted—1. By means of written questions and answers. 2. By object examinations and experiments, when the subject admits of such tests. 3. By practical examination of patients, and by operations on the dead body. 5. By vivâ voce examination.

The person who shall be pronounced by the Examiners to be the best qualified in all respects will be appointed to fill the requisite number of appointments as Assistant-Surgeons in the East-India Company's service. and, so far as the requirements of the service will permit, they will have the choice of the Presidency in India to which they shall be appointed, according to the order of merit in which they stand on the list resulting from such examination.

All Assistant-Surgeons are required to subscribe to the Military or Medical, and Medical Retiring Funds, at the Presidencies to which they may be respectively appointed, and to the Military Orphan Society also, if appointed to Bengal.

All Assistant-Surgeons who shall neglect or refuse to proceed to India under the orders of the Court of Directors, within three months from the date of their appointment, will be considered as having forfeited it, unless special circumstances shall justify a departure from this regulation.

A copy of these regulations, and any further information, may be obtained on application to the Secretary of the Military department, East-India House.

The examinations will take place in the months of January and July in each year, and due notice will be given by public advertisement of the days appointed and of the probable number of candidates to be selected.

The Examiners for Assistant-Surgeons in the Honourable East-India Company's Service, having received many inquiries as to the object and extent of the Examination in Comparative Anatomy, Zoology, and Botany, have considered it desirable to announce that their objects are,—1. To ascertain who of the candidates have devoted especial attention to any of these sciences, and are hence qualified to undertake duties requiring a knowledge of them, as well as the general duties of their profession. Proficiency in these sciences will, in classifying the candidates by merit, be entitled to great consideration. 2. To encourage all candidates to acquire an elementary knowledge of the structure and affinities of the principal natural families of Animals and of Plants, with the general plan upon which these are constructed, ane the functions and relations of their most important organs. 3. To promote the study of Natural History as a most important adjunct or preliminary to a liberal Medical education; that of Comparative Anatomy, Zoology, or Botany, if properly cultivated, by means of specimens, for even a short period, being eminently calculated to develop habits of close observation, and to strengthen those powers of reasoning upon observed facts which must be habitually exercised by Medical men everywhere, but which must be exercised with the greatest energy and promptitude by those who practice in a tropical climate, and who are often thrown wholly upon their own resources. The general examination in these sciences will be elementary, and will embrace a very limited range of technical terms. At the written examination, a considerable number of questions will be put, with the view of allowing each candidate to select such subjects as he has attended to, and, thereby, of enabling the Examiners to ascertain the particular departments of science in which the verbal examination should be conducted. With those candidates who have attained proficiency in any branch of these sciences, the verbal examination will be pursued in the branch selected, so as to ascertain the full extent of their knowledge.

FEES CLAIMABLE BY MEDICAL WITNESSES.

At a coroner's inquest for attending and giving medical evidence, in obedience to the order framed according to schedule A of the 6 and 7 William IV, cap. 89, commonly called "The Medical Witness Act" . . . 1*l.* 1*s.* 0*d.*

If the witness has also, by direction of the Coroner, according to the like form, made a post-mortem examination of the body of the person deceased, then, on attending the inquest, and giving evidence thereon, the witness is entitled to receive a fee of . . . . . 2*l.* 2*s.* 0*d.*

The order to make a "post-mortem examination" comprehends a chemical analysis of the contents of the stomach, if such be necessary, as well as an analysis of any other fluid or substance placed in the hands of the witness by direction of the coroner, under suspicion that it was concerned in the demise of the person deceased; the chemical analysis is a part of the autopsy, and no separate or additional fee is recoverable for such analysis. A medical witness to whose skill a post-mortem examination is confided, is presumed to be competent to make every portion of a pathological or anatomical inspection; or, if he derive aid in his investigation from a professed chemist, or other such specially accomplished person, he must himself prove at the inquest all the appearances detected at the autopsy.

For attending to give medical evidence at trials in the criminal courts and in suits at law . . . . . 1*l.* 1s. 0*d.* to 2*l.* 2*s.* 0*d.*

Medical witnesses who, at inquests, are bound over by the coroner to appear at the sessions or assizes to give evidence at a trial for manslaughter or murder, are paid for attending at the trial, in addition to the payment at the inquest, a sum per day not fixed by law, but varying according to the practice of the county. The sum is probably nowhere less than a guinea per day. When a medical witness is examined at a police court, or before a bench of magistrates, he obtains no fee for his evidence there, and is remunerated only at the criminal court where the trial of the prisoner takes place. This is unjust in principle, as it opens a temptation to strain evidence against the accused at the preliminary enquiry. The medical witness on such occasions should obtain from the committing magistrate or justices a certificate of his claim to be paid at the trial, and present it at the office of the clerk of the arraigns, or other place where the fees of witnesses for attending the criminal court are paid.

A surgeon, called by a police officer to treat an accident, or a person in a state of insensibility, has a legal claim upon the patient, or his or her friends. If, however, he be summoned by the police to attend a sick person at the station-house, he is allowed 3*s.* 6*d.* for a visit in the day-time, and 7*s.* if after nine o'clock at night. These fees are paid by the police authorities.

The statute is so very precise in relation to the attendance and claims of medical gentlemen at coroners' inquests, and it is so necessary that it should be clearly comprehended, in order to save them needless trouble, that we subjoin the following exposition of the law:—

First and chiefly it should be understood, that to entitle a medical witness to receive a fee in the coroner's court, he must have received an order to attend the court, or to open the dead body, signed by the coroner, framed in the following terms:—

"Coroner's inquest at the . . . . . in the parish of . . . . in the county of . . . . . upon the body of . . . . . .

"By virtue of this my order, as coroner for . . . . you are required to appear before me and the jury at the place aforesaid, on the . . . day of . . . . . one thousand eight hundred and . . . at . . o'clock on the . . . . .noon to give evidence touching the cause of the death of the aforesaid person; and make, or assist in making, a post-mortem examination of the body, (with an analysis of the contents of the stomach, if such be necessary,) and report thereon at the said inquest.

"To Mr. . . . . "A. B. coroner."

When any legally qualified medical practitioner has attended upon any inquest in obedience to any such order, as aforesaid, of the coroner, the said practitioner shall, for such attendance at any inquest in Great Britain, be entitled to receive such remuneration or fee as is mentioned in the table marked B in the "Table of Fees."—Section III of the Act.

At the same time that it provides for the payment of medical witnesses who previously had no security for payment, the Act throughout indicates that the summoning of witnesses to make post-mortem examinations and give medical testimony, shall rest with the coroner himself, expressed by the "order" above printed, and not be subject to the whim or discretion of any officer of Police, constable, beadle, or beadborough; and without the possession of the "order" in question, a medical witness cannot legally claim the payment of the fee. The statute, however, does not exonerate medical gentlemen from the duty of obeying a common summons signed by the constable, under the warrant to assemble the inquest, since it may happen that professional men may be the proper persons to testify to facts that do not possess a medical character, and they are in law as fully bound to obey that summons as the express medical order of the coroner.

Dr. Arnott entered the army upwards of sixty years ago; and retired from active service in 1826. For a few years he was attached to the 11th Dragoons, but for a much longer period served with Her Majesty's 20th Foot, sharing the perils and exploits of that distinguished corps on the Nile, in Calabria, Portugal, Spain, and Holland, and earning a medal with clasps for Egypt, Maida, Vimiera, Corunna, Vittoria, the Pyrenees, Nivelle, Nive, Orthes, and Toulouse. After the war Dr. Arnott accompanied his brave companions in arms to St. Helena and India; and, at the former station, became the medical attendant of Napoleon Bonaparte. His professional ability, ingenuous character, and upright and dignified deportment as an officer and gentleman, at once secured for him the confidence of that extraordinary man, whose good opinion, thus early formed, was strengthened by daily interviews during the progress of his fatal disease, and at last ripened into warm personal attachment and sincere esteem. These sentiments were cordially reciprocated by the physician; and, on the part of the illustrious patient, were expressed on all occasions by delicate attentions and lively marks of affectionate regard.

The deceased gentleman had been Surgeon to the Lambeth Workhouse, and Resident Medical Officer of the Hanwell Lunatic Asylum. He was also the author of "An Inquiry into the Physical Condition of the Working Classes in the Parish of St. James's, Westminster," and in 1831 of a Paper to the Lancet, giving an "Account of an Extraordinary and Fatal Epidemic that occurred in the neighbourhood of the Staffordshire Potteries, in the month of June of that year." A case in Lancet, 1854 (parallel with that recorded by Jenner in Med. Chir. Trans. 1809), of Small-Pox occurring to the Fœtus in Utero, the Mother remaining unaffected.

AVERY, JOHN, M.R.C.S. Eng. 1829; F.R.C.S. (Hon.) 1843; M.D. Paris, 1831; at his residence, 3, Queen-street, May-fair, London, March 5. It is with deep sorrow we record the death of Mr. Avery, the late accomplished Surgeon of the Charing-cross Hospital, and one of the most amiable and excellent men of our profession. There have been few Surgeons who have passed through life with more general affection, or whose death has been lamented with a more sincere regret. He was known to a large circle of friends, and beloved for his social manners, his gentlemanlike deportment, his generous feelings, and his sympathizing disposition. Mr. Avery commenced his professional career as the pupil of the late Wm. Cother, Esq., one of the Surgeons of the Gloucester Hospital. This Infirmary being situated in the centre of a large manufacturing district, and being the most important institution of the kind within an extensive area, absorbed a large proportion of the more severe medical and surgical cases occurring in Gloucestershire and the surrounding counties. Its Surgeons at that time were Mr. R. Fletcher and Mr. Cother, both of whom were able practitioners, and as they divided between them the operative practice of the district, the opportunities which the hospital afforded for study were enhanced by their sagacity and experience. Mr. Avery was an observant and attentive pupil, and profited by the professional advantages he enjoyed.

In due season Mr. Avery came to London and entered at St. Bartholomew's Hospital; where his love of his profession, stimulated by a more constant emulation and a more numerous clinique, prompted him to closer application, and he spent the greater part of his time either in the wards or the dissecting-room. He here laid the foundation of that distinction as an operating surgeon which he afterwards reached. It has almost become an axiom that success in operating must depend upon an accurate knowledge of anatomy; and as if impressed with the truth of this aphorism, and with a prescience of his future career, the young surgeon devoted his time to the minute dissection of the dead body. Unless Mr. Avery had been an excellent anatomist, he never could have adventured on those nice and difficult operations on the palate which have identified his name with some of the most important improvements in modern surgery.

After he had received his diploma he went to Paris, where he continued his studies, and took the degree of M.D. His taste, however, preferring the practice of surgery, he never added this titular appendage to his name. From Paris he travelled through the various countries of Europe, exhibiting his usual diligence in the prosecution of his professional studies. Being possessed of an ample fortune, it might be supposed that he would be tempted from the paths of science into the indulgence of those pleasures which continental cities lay in profusion at the feet of their wandering votaries; but it was not so; Mr. Avery, although having a zest for social enjoyment, was a man of earnest character, and he pursued the course of his self-imposed duty with undiminished zeal.

Whilst he was in Italy war was raging in Poland, and the young surgeon, seeing a field open for the acquisition of practical knowledge, entered the Polish service. He was immediately appointed Surgeon-in-Chief to a Polish ambulance, and enjoyed in this capacity unrivalled opportunities of improving himself in the practice of surgery. The fate of war turned, however, against the Poles, and Mr. Avery was made prisoner; his papers and baggage were seized, and being unable to communicate with his friends, he, for many months, "experienced the novelty of living on tenpence a day."

As soon as he was released he returned to London, and commenced practice as a Consulting Surgeon. This is one of the paths to fame which none but a man of high resolve and immovable patience would select. Neither fortune nor friends will, as a matter of course, ensure pre-eminence in this department; the quick eye, the ready hand, and the steadfast spirit will alone justify ambition, and turn opportunity to honour and profit. In the performance of his duties as Surgeon to Charing-cross Hospital these qualities were exhibited in an unusual degree. His coolness, wariness, and presence of mind in the most trying difficulties were the admiration of all spectators; in his operations for cleft palate the care and deliberation with which the successive steps were performed manifested the dominance of a serene intellect strengthening and directing a naturally energetic will. There was not another Surgeon in the metropolis who, in a higher degree, exhibited these qualities, and we need scarcely add, that they are of all others the most necessary to success in operative surgery. Mr. Avery's unexampled success in his favourite operations is, no doubt, attributable to this peculiarity of his character. That he was endowed with considerable mechanical talent, is evidenced by his invention of a lamp for the examination of the outer passages of the body. For this invention he received two medals, one from H.R.H. Prince Albert, as President of the Society of Arts, and the other from the adjudicators of the Great Exhibition.

Mr. Avery's practice was not extensive, and for this various reasons may be assigned. In the first place, the time which he had been before the Profession was comparatively short, and no man can acquire a large amount of consultation practice in this metropolis who has not served a long apprenticeship to popularity: in the next place he was a man of such high honour and sensitiveness of disposition that he retreated from and repudiated the arts which other successful Surgeons have not disdained to use in order to fix the unstable confidence of the public. Nevertheless, had he lived, his various merits would have undoubtedly commanded the support of the Profession, and he would eventually have attained one of the first places among the scientific Surgeons of this country.

He was not, however, so destined. For a considerable time he had been labouring under an obscure form of disease, which was suspected to be a malignant affection of the stomach. He was frequently harassed by violent vomiting after taking food, attended with agonising pain about the præcordia, which he was in the habit of allaying by the inhalation of chloroform. We have been informed that he inhaled three or four ounces a-day for many weeks together. He gradually became emaciated, and sunk on the 5th of March. A post-mortem examination showed the fallaciousness of the symptoms under which he laboured, and the difficulty of forming a correct diagnosis in these cases. It appeared that the stomach was sound; and the only recognisable disease was in the lungs, which were the seat of tubercle both old and recent. The gastric irritation was so intense as to prevent the assimilation of the nutriment which he received, and he must, therefore, literally have died of starvation—sufficient disease not having been found to account for the fatal result.

As an agreeable companion, and sincere and zealous friend, Mr. Avery will long hold a place in our memory; as a sound and skilful Surgeon, and a man of unblemished honour, the Profession will regret his loss, and may reasonably despair of supplying his place with another name equally deserving.

Middlesex Militia, and Medical Officer to the Uxbridge and Eton Unions. He formerly filled the office of Assistant Demonstrator in the school adjoining St. George's Hospital, and was for some years Apothecary to the Lock Hospital. Established at Uxbridge, he obtained a large amount of Practice, and was universally esteemed in the neighbourhood. His name will endure in the annals of medicine as the first man to put in practice an operation which marks an era in science, for the discovery of which mankind is indebted to the genius of Dr. Marshall Hall. Dr. Cane, with a boldness that betokens a clear conception of pathology, opened the trachea of a man afflicted with epilepsy, thus restoring to him a degree of health that enabled him to resume a laborious occupation, and demonstrating the sagacity of the great discoverer of the physiology of the spinal system. The deceased gentleman had also contributed to the Medical Journals the following papers: "On the Operation of Transfusion," "On Foreign Bodies lodged in Bronchial Tubes," "Tracheotomy applied to Epilepsy."

COATES, Thomas T., M.D., Glasg. 1849; L.F.P. and S. and L.M. Glasg.; on September 12, at Strathblane, Stirlingshire. A very painful sensation was occasioned at Belfast through its becoming known that this gentleman, who was the eldest son of the respected Secretary to the Grand Jury of Antrim, had met with a serious and distressing accident, which, in the course of a few days. terminated his life. It appears that Dr. Coates was out shooting by himself, when his foot sank deeply in some soft ground of a marshy nature; in endeavouring to extricate himself, he suddenly fractured his thigh-bone, and he had to lay on the ground in a helpless state for some hours. At length, being enabled to fire off his gun, a man came to his assistance, and helped him home. Erysipelas set in in the course of a few days, and eventually caused death. Dr. Coates was much respected.

Eng. 1851; L.S.A. 1852; Civil Surgeon to the British Army in the East; on October 29, in the Palace Hospital, Scutari, of fever and dysentery The deceased gentleman, whose loss is universally regretted, was the eldest son of Edward T. Complin, Surgeon, of Charter-House-square; he had occupied the posts of Assistant-Physician and Apothecary to the Hospital Ship Dreadnought; House-Surgeon to St. Thomas's Hospital; and of Accoucheur to St. Thomas's Hospital Lying-in Charity. He was also a member of the Pathological Society.

COOK, Thomas Bedlington, M.R.C.S. Eng. 1809; on November 14, 1853, at Llanelly, Carmarthenshire.

COPELAND, Thomas, F.R.C.S. (Hon.) 1843; and one of the Council; Surgeon Extraordinary to the Queen; F.R.S., &c.; on November 19, at Brighton. Mr. Copeland was the son of the Rev. W. Copeland, of Byfield, Northamptonshire, and commenced his professional career as a pupil to the late Mr. Denham, of Chigwell, in Essex, from whence he came to town under the auspices of his maternal uncle, Mr. Edward Ford, whose "Observations on the Diseases of the Hip-joint" have long been appreciated, as well as his report of two elaborate cases of the cure of spontaneous aneurism, dividing the laurels of John Hunter's operation. Mr. Ford's high position presented considerable opportunities for Mr. Copeland's advancement in his Profession; he at the same time attended the lectures at Great Windmill-street, and, subsequently, St. Bartholomew's Hospital. In July, 1804, he was admitted a Member of the Royal College of Surgeons, and afterwards joined the Foot Guards, with whom he embarked for Spain, under the command of Sir John Moore, served with them during their disastrous retreat, and was present at the battle of Corunna. On his return to England, finding his uncle retired from practice, Mr. Copeland occupied his residence in Golden-square for many years, and was appointed Surgeon to the Westminster General Dispensary. In 1810, he published his observations "On Some of the Principal Diseases of the Rectum," a work devoted to the purpose of reclaiming to surgical science a class of diseases at that time generally abandoned to reckless pretenders, who found in them a copious harvest of dishonest profit. From his new and scientific mode of treatment of these distressing maladies he at once established his reputation, and fairly earned the distinction of being the founder of Rectum Surgery. He was now required to furnish another edition of "Ford's Observations on the Hip-joint," and it is well known how admirably he performed his task, correcting it as he did with his own valuable remarks. Mr. Copeland also published his work "Observations on the Symptoms and Treatment of Diseased Spine," a treatise which has been much commended for detecting the early symptoms of this disease, and pointing out remedies in its incipient stage. This publication was so highly appreciated by continental Surgeons that it was translated into several European languages. Mr. Copeland also contributed to the various periodicals, and was, we believe, the author of several articles on surgical subjects in Rees's Encyclopedia. He also published an interesting case in the Medico-Chirurgical Transactions of a biliary calculus voided from a tumour in the groin. His eminent professional abilities soon became acknowledged, not only by the Profession, but by the public at large. His practice, which was extensive, chiefly among the aristocratic classes, embraced several Royal personages, among whom we may enumerate the King of the Belgians, H.R.H. the Duke of Sussex, H.R.H. the Princess Sophia of Gloucester, and our present illustrious ally the Emperor of the French. He was a member of the Council of the College of Surgeons; but, together with Messrs. Howship and Briggs, was disallowed a seat at the Court of Examiners, to the surprise of not a few of his professional friends and admirers. He enjoyed, however, the confidence of his Sovereign, who appointed him one of the Surgeons-Extraordinary to her person. About twelve years since he removed into Cavendish-square, but his health failing him he limited his practice from that time. It may be truly said of him that few men contributed more to the advancement of science, and certainly none to the mitigation of human suffering. He was highly esteemed by his professional brethren for his sagacious as well as his quick discernment of disease. Of late years, Mr. Copeland had suffered from an affection of the chest, and on his recent visit to Brighton, for the last few weeks, he was attacked with jaundice, and general debility, under which he gradually sank. Dr. G. Robert Rowe, of London, and Mr. Taylor, of Brighton, rendered all the medical aid in their power to their old and much-esteemed friend. His remains were interred in the cemetery of Brighton, and were attended by his two nephews, the Rev. W. J. Copeland, D.D., and George Ford Copeland, Esq. (the present eminent surgeon of Cheltenham), his old friends Sir C. M. Clarke, Dr. Bissett Hawkins, J. Taylor, Esq. and Dr. G. Robert Rowe.

COUPER, John, M.D. Edin. 1816; Fell. F.P. and S., Glasg. 1819; on May 11, suddenly, at his residence, 16, Moore-place, West George-street, Glasgow, aged 60. The deceased gentleman had been the Senior Surgeon of the Glasgow Royal Infirmary, and from the year 1833 was the Regius Professor of Materia Medica in the University of Glasgow. The minute attention which he paid, during his medical studies, to the sciences of botany and chemistry, qualified him eminently for the chair which he has occupied so usefully and respectably during the last twenty-one years. Dr. Couper was a well-informed man, and in good repute as a medical practitioner; and although not a copious writer, he occasionally contributed some clinical observations to the Glasgow Medical Journal. He was a member of the Glasgow Medico-Chirurgical Society.

CRAWFORD, Andrew, M.D. Glasgow, 1813, on December 27th, 1854, at St John's-hill, Lochwinnoch, aged 67. Dr. Crawford was a distinguished student of the Glasgow University, and under the especial patronage of his then class-fellow, the late Marquess of Bute, he commenced his professional career at Rothesay, in the Isle of Bute. He practised there for a few years with marked success; but, on the establishment of the Dollar Institution, he was induced (at the suggestion of his friend and patron, the late Professor Dugald Stewart, of the University of Edinburgh) to become a candidate for the Chair of Natural Philosophy in that Institution. He was successful. Ere the intelligence of his appointment had reached him, however, the Doctor unfortunately had a paralytic attack, from which he ultimately recovered, but with the partial loss of his speech and power of his right side. In these circumstances he resigned the chair at Dollar. He also at the same time relinquished his medical practice at Rothesay, and retired to the place of his birth (St. John's-hill, Lochwinnoch), where he applied himself diligently to literary pursuits. Among other works he wrote a voluminous "Eik," or Supplement to Doctor Jameson's Scottish Dictionary, which has within the last two years been purchased by the Messrs. Blackie and Sons, of this City, with a view to publication. He assisted Mr. Paterson in his "Families of Ayrshire." He also, at the solicitation of the publishers, wrote the Glossary to the last edition of our humorous friend the "Laird o' Logan," besides contributing largely, in the shape of anecdote, to the work itself. He had just completed a most voluminous work, extending to no less than forty-four quarto MS. volumes, all relating to historical and antiquarian matters connected with his native county.—Medical Times and Gazette.

The deceased gentleman was Surgeon to the Alnwick Infirmary and the Union Workhouse; he contributed papers to the Medical Journals on "Injury to the Hip-Joint, with Shortening of the Limb," and on Strangulated Femoral Hernia treated by Chloroform." Mr. Davison was much respected in the locality where he had practised.

DAY, William, Surgeon, at Isleworth, on November 3, aged 76. The deceased gentleman was born near Colchester, in Essex, on March 10, 1780, and at the age of fourteen was articled to Horatio Cock, Esq., Surgeon of that town. He remained with that gentleman several years, and gave such early proofs of assiduity in the duties of his profession, that he was enabled to attend Patients and perform minor operations, at an age when many have scarcely acquired the rudiments of Medical and Surgical knowledge. Mr. Cock frequently sent him as his substitute, and "the young doctor," as he was called, received many flattering testimonials of the satisfaction he gave on those occasions. On the completion of his articles, Mr. Day became a pupil at the London Hospital, and was much noticed by the late Sir William Blizard, under whom Mr. Cock had formerly studied. After two years' attendance at this hospital, Mr. Day purposed to become an army surgeon, and passed the usual examination for that purpose, but becoming ill from a fever caught in the wards of the hospital, he returned for a time to Colchester, and there married Miss Harriet Cock, the niece of his old preceptor. He then finally decided upon settling into a private practice, and in November, 1803, succeeded in purchasing that of the late John Dege, Esq., of Isleworth, who gave him a twelvemonth's introduction.

The old fashion of powdered hair and bag-tails being then in vogue, and Mr. Day being a tall man, he had the appearance of being older than he really was, which was of much service to him as a young beginner. He was fortunate enough to have two or three successful operations very shortly after his arrival in Isleworth, which contributed greatly to establish his reputation, operations being in those days much more regarded as evidence of professional skill than they now are. At Isleworth Mr. Day continued to reside during all the rest of his life.

Mr Day's professional career was uniformly prosperous; he rarely had any opponent in his own immediate district, and never for any considerable length of time. Few men have worked harder than Mr. Day did during the first part of his residence at Isleworth, and in a short time his practice more than doubled that which it had been when he purchased it. He was always regarded as one of the "more fortunate" of the profession, standing exceedingly high in the esteem of his neighbours, and being on good terms with his professional brethren. He had a peculiar tact of gaining the confidence of his patients, and many of the highest rank have recorded their testimony to his skill and attention in a most gratifying manner. Of late years he had gradually retired from the more active duties of his profession, but continued his attendance, when able, upon his old friends, up to the day of his decease. His death was occasioned by an attack of angina pectoris, of which he had had threatenings for some years, although generally enjoying good health, and (excepting being at times exceedingly nervous) very good spirits. The sudden event of his decease cast a gloom over the entire village of Isleworth, and almost every shop was partially closed; for his long residence of fifty-two years, during the whole of which time he had sustained a most untarnished reputation, and enjoyed the good opinion of all who knew him, caused him to be universally looked up to as an honourable, conscientious, and kind-hearted man. In March, 1828, Mr. Day lost his wife, by whom he had three daughters, and a son. Mr. Horatio Grosvenor Day, who has been in partnership with his father since 1831. He was married again in August, 1829, to the eldest daughter of the late Bryan Donkin, Esq., F.R.S. and C.E. By this marriage he has a daughter and two sons, the elder studying for the law, the younger for the medical profession.

Mr. Day was a member of the Court of Assistants of the Apothecaries' Company, but had declined to serve the office of Master, preferring to pay the fine instead, on account of the distance at which he resided from the Hall. He was one of the few survivors of the original "Metropolitan Road Commissioners," a trustee of most of the local charity funds, and a liberal supporter of anything likely to benefit the neighbourhood in which he resided.

His funeral took place on Saturday, November 10. He was buried in his family vault in the old churchyard at Isleworth—special permission having been obtained from the Home Secretary. The carriages of Her Grace the Duchess Dowager of Northumberland, the Rev. H. Glossop, &c. formed part of the mournful procession; and nearly all the respectable inhabitants of the neighbourhood attended beside his grave to evince their respect for the memory of the deceased.

in the Channel Islands, in South America, the West Indies, North America, and, during the last awful winter, on the heights of Balaklava, Crimea. His professional abilities were of a very high order, but these were surpassed by his eminent social and Christian virtues. His death is lamented by a large circle of relatives and friends, to whom his warm heart, and amiable character, had greatly endeared him. He has left a young widow, and an infant son.

EDWARDS, Thomas Nelson, Assistant-Surgeon, H.E.I.C.S., on June 16, at Calcutta, of Cholera, aged 23.

ELY, George Ebenezer, M.D., at Rochester, on October 16, aged 42. "The premature decease of this lamented practitioner presents to our notice a marked and painful instance of a wife and large family being suddenly reduced from a position of competence and comfort to one of great pecuniary difficulty: Dr. Ely graduated at Edinburgh in the year 1835, and in 1838 he became an L.S.A. He shortly afterwards commenced general practice in Rochester, and gradually acquired a somewhat large but not lucrative practice. He had an unusually large obstetric connexion, and unfortunately the harassing duties of this department laid the foundation of his illness. He also was one of the officers of the Medway Union. During the last few years his practice had been increasing in numbers and respectability; and it began to be evident that the laborious nature of his duties by day, and the frequent deprivation of rest at night resulting from midwifery, were making serious inroads upon his health. Early in August he had an attack of illness which lasted some weeks, the chief symptoms of which were, obstinate constipation of the bowels, great debility, emaciation, pain, referred to the liver and duodenum, and, added to these, a jaundiced tinge of skin, indicative of hepatic derangement. He consulted Dr. Budd, of King's College, and soon recovered tolerable health; but not long after he began to suffer from modified attacks of a similar kind, accompanied with frequent deposition of the oxalate of lime, and the usual debility and distress which mark that diathesis. Notwithstanding his impaired health, he continued to discharge the laborious duties of his increasing practice, any relaxation from which he found incompatible with the wants of his numerous and increasing family. Some months ago he had symptoms of paralysis; the right index and middle finger became benumbed, and he lost the power of extension over them. His declining health now began to excite the anxiety of his friends. Often have I endeavoured to induce him to relax his arduous labours, but his usual reply was, 'The pressing wants of my family make it impossible for me to do so.' He continued therefore to toil on until the evening of the 13th October, when after returning home at seven p.m., he became exhausted, and was placed in a warm bed. About an hour from this time he was seized with hemiplegia of the right side, his speech became thick and indistinct, he gradually merged into coma, and died on the 16th October, at six p.m., at the early age of forty-two, leaving a wife and eleven children totally unprovided for. He was possessed of a cultivated intellect, was attached to literature, and his professional attainments were above the usual order. He was kind and considerate in his profession, an affectionate husband, and fond and anxious father. Endeavours are now being made to place two of the younger children in the Infant Hospital Asylum, Wanstead, and two others in the London Orphan Asylum. It is also desired, if possible, to procure admission for two of the boys into the Royal Medical Benevolent College, and it is hoped that those who have votes or interest in either of the above charities will kindly place them at my disposal in furtherance of the above object.—T. P. Beavan.

ESCOTT, G. G., Surgeon, at Haverhill, Suffolk.

ESTLIN, John Bishop, M.R.C.S. Eng. 1806; F.R.C.S. (Hon.) 1843; on June 10, at his residence, 47, Park-street, Bristol, aged 79. The deceased was born on St. Michael's-hill, Bristol, in 1786, at the residence of his father, the pastor of the Unitarian congregation of that city, and under whose academical tuition some of the leading men of the day have received the foundation of their subsequent education. The subject of our notice was, from the first, intended for the medical profession, and chose for his Alma Mater the University of Edinburgh, where he greatly distinguished himself. Upon leaving the modern Athens, he commenced practice in his native city, and directed his attention chiefly to the diseases of the visual organ, in which he became somewhat pre-eminent. In the year 1812 he established a dispensary for the cure and practice of ophthalmic disorders, in Frogmore-street, and of which he was for many years the principal support; since that period upwards of seventy thousand persons have experienced its aid. In addition to this he also took great interest in providing a system of general literature for the blind, and while busied in forwarding this object in the metropolis about two years ago, he was seized with the attack which ultimately prostrated his health. Since that period he had been unable to write without pain, and his only daughter had become his amanuensis. The last attack occurred on Friday, the 8th of May. He was instantly removed to his bed, and Drs. Morgan and Prichard were called in, but, notwithstanding every effort on the part of his friends, he expired on June 10, at the age of sixty-nine.

EYRE, Charles Cocks, L.S.A. 1824; on February 15, at New Radnor, South Wales. Mr. Eyre had been Coroner for the borough of Radnor, and at the time of his decease was the Mayor. FLETCHER, Ralph, M.D. Edin. 1833; Physician to the Gloucester Infirmary; on November 21, at the residence of his brother-in-law, G. D. Goodyear, Esq. It occasionally happens that we are required to perform the touching duty of recording the demise of one who was at the same time a Physician and a friend. Death smites with a double sorrow when the same blow which levels fine talents and aspiring hopes with the dust, severs the tender bonds of personal affection, and makes a vacancy in the circle of those we love. Dr. Fletcher was the only surviving son of the late eminent Practitioner, Mr. Fletcher, of Gloucester; he was thus introduced to the Profession under the happiest auspices. He became in due season Physician to the Gloucester Infirmary, and, being possessed of great mental endowments, he would, probably, had he lived, have attained a considerable professional reputation. Providence willed it otherwise, and we have no comments to make on a career which was terminated almost on its threshold. It is of the man we feel it to be our vocation to speak. Dr. Fletcher was remarkable for the spotlessness of his honour, the amiability of his disposition, the gentleness of his manners, and the high tone of self-respect and generous consideration for others which distinguished every act of his life. He was the idol of his family connexions, and was beloved by all who knew him. He never made an enemy, and never lost a friend. His numerous virtues were known far beyond the circle of his acquaintance; consequently his premature death has cast a gloom over the city of his birth and residence. Heir to considerable possessions, which after the lapse of a very few years would have accrued to him, it is melancholy to think how much good, with a mind so charitably disposed, he would have done, had his life been spared. The disease which terminated his life on Wednesday, November 21st, originated, it is supposed, in the brain, and had been slowly at work probably for two or three years. He was on the point of seeking change of air when an epileptic seizure suddenly supervened, under which, after a few hours, he sank.

FORBES, Benjamin, Surgeon, at Dysart, Fifeshire.

The particulars of his melancholy decease, and the circumstances attending it, may be found in the daily journals.

GALLIMORE, William, Surgeon, on February 12, at Chesterfield, aged 50.

GARDOM, George, M.R.C.S. Eng. 1823; L.S.A. 1821; on May 20, at his residence, 6, Crescent-parade, Salford, Lancashire, aged 55. Until within a few days of his decease Mr. Gardom enjoyed his usual health. On May 12, after visiting a patient, he was seized with colic, which induced dysenteric symptoms, and terminated in complete exhaustion. Mr. Gardom was a native of Derbyshire. He served his apprenticeship at the Manchester Royal Infirmary, and was subsequently House-Surgeon to the same Institution. Mr. G. was formerly Surgeon, and afterwards Consulting Surgeon, to the Salford and Pendleton Royal Infirmary, from its foundation. By his professional skill and his unremitting assiduity, combined with rare suavity of manner, he gradually attained to a large and highly respectable practice.

He has suddenly passed away in the midst of regrets as extensive as he was known, and as sincere as they are well deserved.

GARTHSIDE, JOHN WILLIAM, L.A.C. (of Chorley), of disease of the heart, in March, at the residence of his brother, James Garthside, 69, Rodney-street, Liverpool.

GAVIN, HECTOR, M.D. Edin. 1836; F.R.C.S. Edin. 1838; L.R.C.S. Edin. 1835 M.R.C.S. Eng. 1843; on April 21, at Balaklava, aged 39. The circumstances attending the decease of this lamented gentleman were of a particularly painful character. It appears that Dr. Gavin had been at Balaklava about a month, and had taken up his quarters in the hut of his brother, William Gavin, a Veterinary Surgeon. On the night of the 20th, the conversation after dinner having turned upon their revolvers, Dr. Gavin referred to one with which he had provided himself before he left England, and handed it down to his brother for inspection. The latter took it, and being ignorant of the fact that it was both loaded and capped, and not being aware that the construction of the revolver was such that the mere pressure of the trigger discharged the piece, he commenced handling it, when the trigger instantly fell, and the piece, pointed at his brother, became the vehicle of the murderous ball, which entered the groin and lodged in the back. Dr. Gavin at once was conscious of the fatal character of the wound, and sought to meet his approaching end with calmness and resignation. Drs. Sutherland and Matthews were summoned, but no help could be afforded, and, after three hours of great agony, the victim of this melancholy catastrophe expired. Mr. William Gavin at once made a deposition of the facts of the case. A Court of Inquiry was held, and the following verdict was unanimously found:—"Balaklava, April 21, 1855.—The court having received the evidence submitted to them, are perfectly satisfied of the nature of the accident by which Dr. Gavin came by his death. In their opinion Mr. William Gavin stands completely exonerated from any fault—a charge of carelessness even could not be substantiated against him. As a mark of their entire agreement in this opinion, they have signed their names below.—(Signed) W. G. Romaine, president; John Sutherland, M.D., sanitary commissioner; A. Anderson, principal medical officer, Balaklava." Dr. Gavin held various appointments, viz.: Physician-General to the Post Office in 1853; Superintending Inspector of the General Board of Health during 1851 to 1853; Medical Inspector of the West India Colonies; also Surgeon to the London Orphan Asylum and the British Penitent Female Refuge; Lecturer on Forensic Medicine at the Charing-cross Hospital. Dr. Gavin was Editor of the "Journal of Public Health." Author of a work on "Feigned Diseases;" "2. "The Unhealthiness of London, and the Necessity of Remedial Measures;" 3. "Sanitary Ramblings;" 4. "Investigation into the Sanitary Condition of London;" 5. "On the Habitations of the Industrious Classes," and other Sanitary Reports.

HUME, JOSEPH, M.R.C.S. Edin., and M.P., in February. The living political reformers of Great Britain have lost their oldest leader—Joseph Hume is numbered with the dead. Mr. Hume had been visibly declining in health for a year past. During the last few weeks a disease of the heart gradually reduced his strength, and gave warning that his end was drawing near. He expired at six o'clock on Tuesday night, at his seat, Burnley-hall, Norfolk Mr. Hume was a native of Montrose, and born in January, 1777. His father was a master of a coasting vessel trading from that town. Mrs. Hume was early left a widow with a large family, of whom Joseph was a younger son. The mother, ill provided, established a retail crockery shop in that burgh, and by her industry and management reared and educated her children. Her memory was ever honoured by her family, all indebted to her sound sense, moral courage, and parental example. To this maternal care and influence Mr. Hume used to ascribe his own success and good fortune in life. Mr. Hume's elementary education was obtained in the local schools of his native town. Reading, writing, "accounts," and a smattering of Scotch Latinity constituted the sum total of his "schooling." About the age of thirteen he was placed apprentice to a surgeon apothecary of Montrose, and he remained with his master about three years, chiefly occupied in compounding prescriptions. It has been generally reported that he graduated in Aberdeen, but he entered the medical classes of Edinburgh in 1793—continuing in that university till 1796, when he was admitted a member of the College of Surgeons of the modern Athens. On reference to the records of the College of Surgeons of London, in Lincoln's-inn fields, we find that he passed as surgeon of an Indiaman on the 2nd of February, 1797, at a meeting of the Court of Examiners of that corporation. There is no register of his Scotch or other certificates, but it is believed that he had previously "walked the hospitals" of this metropolis. We have heard that, with the interest of the late Mr. David Scott, M.P. for Forfar, he entered as assistant-surgeon the marine service of the East India Company, and in that and the following year made a voyage out and home, being absent from England about eighteen months. At the India house we first trace him in the Company's Board's records as elected a full assistant-surgeon, nominated by the then chairman, Mr. J. Bosanquet, being reported November 12th, 1799, for the ship Houghton and Presidency of Bengal. His patrons, the Scotts of Dunninald, Forfarshire, were politically connected with Montrose, where the Humes are said to have supported their interest. Mr. David Scott was in the East India Direction from 1788 to 1802, and other members of his family in high civil offices in Bengal. But, whoever aided the young Scotch surgeon in these his first steps in life, Joseph Hume, by his own talents and perseverance, was the meritorious architect of his own subsequent fortunes and celebrity, India only gave scope to his native power and energy of mind. We have heard that in his second voyage out, in one of the "ancient Arks" of the Company, crammed with passengers of all classes, conditions, and professions, he volunteered, on the accidental death of the purser, to supply the duties of the deceased functionary during the remainder of the voyage—that his assiduity and good temper in that vocation gained him many friendships; and that, on the arrival of the vessel in Calcutta, the captain, officers, and passengers, gave him a public testimonial in acknowledgment of his gratuitous services. Thus, the young surgeon landed with a ready-made reputation. His keen instinct led him immediately to observe that few of the Company's servants acquired the native languages. He lost no time, therefore, in setting to work and mastering that difficult accomplishment. Labour was to him a pastime, especially if any rupees could be gained by it. Mr. Hume, moreover, early studied the religions of the East and the superstitions of that vast and mixed Asiatic population, whose succession of creeds, moulded into so many sects, is so essential a knowledge for the rule of India. The authorities early recognised in young Hume a valuable and laborious servant. In 1802-3, on the eve of Lord Lake's Mahratta war, much consternation at the seat of government occurred. On a discovery that the gunpowder in store was useless from damp, Mr. Hume's knowledge of chemistry fortunately came in aid of bad administration. He undertook the restoration of this all-important munition of war, and he succeeded. Attached in his medical capacity to a regiment in the expedition, he was almost immediately selected by Major-General Powell as the interpreter to the Commander-in-Chief. But our space will not permit us to follow this industrious man throughout his Indian career. Sufficient is it to mention, that he not only continued his medical duties, but filled successively important posts in the offices of paymaster and postmaster of the forces, in the prize agencies and the commissariat. So recently as the late select committee of the House of Commons on the military, ordnance, and commissariat expenditure (of which he was an active and valuable member) he astonished his colleagues by the intelligence and acuteness of his examination of witnesses. On some expression of surprise in the committee, he observed, "You forget I was once commissary-general to an army of 12,000 men in India!" Not only did he gain high reputation by these multifarious civil employments, but he realised large emoluments. Peace concluded, within five years Mr. Hume returned to the Presidency, and with a sufficient private fortune to justify his retirement from his profession, and, much sooner than falls to the lot of most men in the East India Company, he resigned his civil employments, and arrived in England, the possessor of a honestly earned fortune of 30,000*l.* or 40,000*l.* It is unnecessary to follow this distinguished member of our Profession throughout his political career, which is now matter of history.

LE BLANC, —, Surgeon to the 9th Foot, on March 18, before Sebastopol, having been shot by a French sentry. The particulars of the melancholy death of this gentleman are contained in a letter from Lord Raglan, which reads thus:—"It is with deep concern that I transmit for your Lordship's information the copy of a letter, which I received on the 18th March, from General Canrobert, announcing, with every expression of concern, the death of a British officer, who appears to have wandered into the French camp, and not answering the challenge, that was repeated three times, was shot dead by the French sentry whose post he had approached. This officer, Surgeon Le Blanc, of the 9th Foot, occupied the tent near the hospital huts of his regiment, situated at some distance from the encampment of the regiment itself. He was a gentleman of most temperate habits, and was occupied in reading, when, suddenly, upon the alarm sounding, he rose from his seat, leaving his candle lighted and his book open, and walked out—he was never seen alive afterwards. It should be explained that shortly after the close of day on the 17th there was a very heavy fire on the left of the French right, which was maintained for several hours. None of the English posts were attacked, but it was considered prudent to get the greater portion of our troops under arms. Mr. Le Blanc was shortsighted, and probably mistook his way from the first, the night being excessively dark, for he was found far distant to the left, and must have wandered from our position without knowing the direction in which he was going. Being anxious to ascertain the facts of this unfortunate case as correctly as possible, I have set on foot an inquiry, to be conducted by English and French officers, in association with each other; and I propose to do myself the honour to send you their report."

LEWIS, George, M.R.C.S. Eng. 1812; on February 18, at Wrexham, North Wales, aged 65. Mr. Lewis was born at Carnarvon on August 6, 1789. At the age of 17 he was apprenticed to Mr. Jones, surgeon, at Bala, where, during the four years he served that gentleman, he gave many striking proofs and presages of the powerful mind by which, in after life, he was distinguished. In the year 1808 he obtained the situation of Assistant to the late John Addington, Esq., surgeon, Spital-square, London, under whose auspices, as well as subsequently at the united Hospitals of Guy's and St. Thomas's, he pursued his studies with such assiduity and success as to attract the marked attention of the late Sir Astley Cooper, and to lay the foundation of that skill and reputation for which he was so extensively known. He left the Borough Hospitals in May, 1812, and immediately commenced practice in this town. From the first establishment of the Dispensary in this town, he was one of its earliest and most constant friends. As one of the surgeons attached to the establishment, his conduct was most exemplary for punctuality and zeal; never failing, during many years, in personally attending the patients confided to his care. In his profession as a surgeon he was widely and deservedly celebrated, and we believe we may add, that there were few cases of difficulty occurring in the neighbourhood on which his opinion was not consulted by his professional brethren, whose obligations to his experience and acumen were readily acknowledged. There have been few institutions, in fact, established in Wrexham, having for their object either the physical or mental improvement of his townsmen, that have not directly or indirectly benefited from his endeavours; perhaps none more so than the British Schools, which, it is not too much to say, are mainly indebted to his instrumentality for their existence. From the facts detailed in the above brief sketch, it will be apparent that the mental qualities of the deceased were of a high order, and we feel justified in the observation that, with less talent and ability, many have left behind a name more extolled; but in the case of the subject of our memoir, the very qualities that ensure success and fame, though existing in excess, were unequally mingled. Temperament and circumstances, acting on a spirit more than ordinarily sensitive, supported by a consciousness of rectitude, and an abhorrence of oppression, elicited more of fortiter in rem than of suaviter in modo in his walk through life. He could not stoop to ask "with bated breath and whispering humbleness" when he had a right to demand; his quick conception of wrong or slight was often enunciated with startling brevity; and his general deportment had an Abernethian brusqueness about it which, though it might be relished by his intimates, rendered him an opponent not rashly to be encountered in public discussion or private argument.

Since his settlement in Congleton, he had been appointed a Certifying Factory Surgeon, and Medical Referee to several Insurance Offices; he was also a Member of the Provincial Association. He frequently contributed papers to the Medical Journals, and amongst them may be named "Report of a Case of Successful Excision of the Elbow-Joint," Med. Times and Gaz. 1852; "Paper on the Resection of Joints and Excision of Entire Bones, with a Successful Case of Excision of the Entire Os Calcis," Ibid. 1852; "Paper on the Application of Friction as a Remedy for Diseased Joints, with Cases," Ibid. 1852, &c. &c.

He was a young surgeon of great promise, and a devotée to his profession. He went to the Crimea in October 1854, and was one of the surgeons in charge of the sick on board the steamer Trent to Scutari, honourable mention being made of him before the Committee of the House of Commons. His premature death was occasioned by fever, after three weeks' illness—a sacrifice to his self-imposed labours on behalf of his fellow-countrymen. Mr. Ludlow was the author of several contributions to Medical Journals, and he obtained the Jacksonian Prize for 1854. His early death is much deplored by his contemporaries, especially those with whom he was connected at St. Bartholomew's Hospital, where he was well known and much respected.

Mr. Macaw obtained his diploma in 1820, and immediately settled down in his native place, where for 35 years he practised his profession with credit and success. The possession of a large fund of information, both general and professional, caused his advice to be valued and sought for by all in trouble or anxiety, of whatever kind, and, joined to his kindness of manner, gained the respect and esteem of a large circle of friends and clients, by whom his loss is deeply regretted.

MACGREGOR, Robert, M.D. Glasgow, 1842; L.R.C.S. Edin. 1833;

Fell. F.P. and S. 1837; on March 20, at 93, West Regent-street, Glasgow, aged 45. Dr. Robert Macgregor was a native of Ardchattan, Bonaw, near Oban, Argyleshire, where his aged relatives and family still reside. After receiving such elementary instruction as could be imparted in his native village, he was sent, when about fifteen years of age, to this city, in the University of which he successfully cultivated classical literature, and acquired the rudiments of medical science. At this period he became the pupil of the late Mr. John Stirling, an able and accomplished practitioner, a dexterous operating surgeon, and an enthusiastic teacher of anatomy in the Portland-street School of Medicine. Under such tuition, the strong natural talents of young Macgregor were evoked and matured to such a degree that he became the intimate friend and companion, and ultimately the colleague, of his accomplished preceptor. Before entering on the duties, however, of Lecturer on Chemistry in the School of Medicine, already referred to, Dr. Macgregor had resided for several years in the Glasgow Royal Infirmary, as Superintendent and Apothecary; in which institution he conducted those investigations into the nature of diabetes which at once stamped him as an accurate observer and an original thinker, and acquired for him an European reputation. The experiments and observations which he made on diabetes were presented to the scientific world in the form of a probationary essay to the Faculty of Physicians and Surgeons of Glasgow, when he became a member of that body in the year 1837. To Dr. Macgregor belongs the merit of unfolding the true nature and pathology of the dreadful malady just named, and of directing the Medical Profession to sounder views and more rational practice. This just tribute to minute observation, untiring industry, and logical inference, has been willingly conceded to our lamented friend; and in all the standard works on medicine which have since appeared throughout the civilised world, the name of Robert Macgregor has been identified with diabetes. It consists with our knowledge that Bouchardat, of Paris, one of the highest authorities on renal diseases in France, and the late Golding Bird, who occupied a similar position in London, both expressed their personal obligation some years ago to our friend when on a visit to these respective capitals. When in the Glasgow Infirmary he also made a series of observations regarding the quantity of carbonic acid which is expired from the lungs, under certain circumstances, more especially in reference to the amount given off when the skin is rendered unable for the discharge of its functions by the existence of small-pox and similar diseases. These observations, likewise, have been favourably received throughout the world of medicine. Subsequently, he became one of the physicians in that institution in which, at a very early age, he had laid the foundation of those well-merited honours which his medical brethren in all countries had done themselves honour in conferring. To the higher duties of Physician to the Infirmary, he brought, in his maturer years, the same patient observation, the same ceaseless industry and zeal, which had characterised him in his younger days, when he acted as Superintendent and Apothecary. Dr. Macgregor had an extensive private practice, and seldom failed to become the personal friend, as well as the professional adviser, of those who required his aid. There was not a society in Glasgow connected with the Highlands of which he was not an active and zealous member. He never failed to respond to any appeal uttered by a Celtic tongue; and among the many who will feel his loss, his Highland countrymen, always deep and earnest in their attachments, will, perhaps, next to his actual relations, chiefly mourn his early decease, and cherish his amiable memory. For a considerable time past, the health of Dr. Macgregor had been fatally shaken. An inflammatory attack of the lungs, caught, we understand, from emerging on a cold night from the heated wards of the Infirmary, caused his life, about two years ago, to be despaired of; and although he afterwards rallied so far as to resume his professional labours, the seeds of disease were irrecoverably implanted in his constitution. The end has at last come. An impressive funeral service was performed at his residence in West Regent-street, on Thursday, March 29, by his friend, the Rev. Norman M'Leod, of the Barony Church; after which his body was removed for conveyance to his native place, according to a wish he had expressed, that he might sleep his last sleep by the banks of his own beloved Loch Etive.—Glasgow Courier.

MAINWARING, EDWARD VINCENT, at Bournemouth, Hants, of pleuro-pneumonia, aged 46 years. The deceased was the originator and anxious promoter of the Bournemouth Sanatorium; his very heart and soul were devoted to its best interests, and under his supervision the foundation-stone of the building was laid; and to his untiring energy and perseverance may be mainly attributed the present advanced state of the edifice. The Sanatorium is not yet completed for want of funds,—no less a sum than 1,500*l.* being required to carry out and perfect this benevolent Institution. To the exertions of Sir John Forbes, indeed, is to be attributed much of the success of the undertaking; and to this circumstance Dr. Mainwaring made marked reference before his death. Dr. Mainwaring is no more! A sad and melancholy bereavement is felt among that class of society by whom he was so justly appreciated, esteemed, and beloved,—his own Profession. His professional brethren around the country will truly sustain a great loss. In gentlemanly deportment, kindness of heart, and unflinching professional and moral integrity, he could not have been surpassed by any of his surviving brethren, metropolitan or provincial. His friend Dr. Crabb, of Poole, was first sent for to attend him, and soon afterwards Mr. Wiblin, of Southampton, both of whom, in conjunction with Mr. West, of Poole, continued to be with him until the fatal termination of the disease. Dr. Mainwaring was an M.D. Glasgow, 1842; M.R.C.S.E. 1827; formerly in the Hon. E.I.C. Service; Vice-President of the Literary Institution of the town and county of Poole.

MAJENDIE, the eminent French Philosopher, at Paris, on October 7. There are few Medical men in this time who have not from their Student-days been familiar with one name—Majendie. The name has become a "household word," and synonymous almost with the science of Rational Physiology. It will ever remain so, but now, alas! only as a name: its owner is no more. Throughout Europe the painful fact is echoed in the same words—"Majendie, the French Physiologist, died in Paris on Sunday, October the 7th." Majendie lived to the ripe old age of seventy-two years. He lived to see many of the important results of a revolution in Medical science, which he by his own labours and genius mainly brought about. The works of Majendie are the purest specimens of physiological argument and description. In this respect they read like Harvey's Disquisition on the Motion of the Heart and Blood. His mind was made only to appreciate and acknowledge physical facts. When mysticism and doubt came on the scene, Majendie retired or waited. It was not his business to dress up in mere words the unknown and invisible. In all his experiments he looked at the essences of things. He knew that Nature "does not proclaim herself to the multitude, or by sound of trumpet, but that he must question her in solitude with the simplicity of a child, and look earnestly in her face for the reply." Thus looking, he saw facts which were on the surface, yet which none saw before, but which all could see plainly when he had described them. In his struggles after truth there was no limit to his courage. He struck out boldly, watchfully, in each new pursuit; the problem of "life and its meaning" was ever before him, and he worked at its solution unflinchingly, hopefully, through a long lifetime. When the day comes, as it must, when this problem shall be solved, the labours of Majendie will stand out more prominently than even he himself foresaw. Immortal Majendie! now that he is gone from us his value is most felt. The Philosophers of France fall fast before the stern reaper—Arago, Orfila, and now Majendie. Who shall fill their places?—Medical Times and Gazette.

NIMMO, Patrick, M.D. St. Andrew's, 1817; on July 11, at Dundee. Dr. Nimmo, laboured most successfully for upwards of fifty years in alleviating the sufferings of his fellow-creatures. The Doctor, after being some years in the East Lothian Cavalry Regiment, established himself in this his native town, in partnership with his old apprentice-master, the late Dr. Robert Stewart, and Sir Alexander Douglass, Bart. He afterwards settled on his own account, and enjoyed a very extensive and respectable practice in Dundee and neighbourhood, till within the last seven or eight years, when age and increasing infirmities obliged him in a great measure to relinquish it. He was one of the first Surgeons appointed to the Dundee Royal Infirmary, and for more than thirty years assisted much in raising and maintaining the professional reputation of that benevolent institution. He only retired from it on the death of the late Dr. Ramsay, about twenty years ago, when he was appointed to succeed him as Physician to our Lunatic Asylum, and in which office he continued till his death. Dr. Nimmo was always regarded by the Profession and his patients as one of the ablest Physicians. As a Surgeon he was held in high estimation; his operations were very expert, and in general successfully performed. To all, more especially his patients, he endeared himself by his urbanity and kindness of manner. He was a man of large and extensive acquirements and experience, sterling and upright in all his dealings. In all the relations of life, mild, kind, and in every respect a thorough Christian in principle, Dr. Nimmo held an enviable position in the society of the town, and in the Profession which he so much adorned.—*Dundee, &c. PEACOCK, Beddoes, M.D. Edin. 1826; L.S.A. 1825; on March 6, at Darlington, aged 50. "It is with feelings of the most unfeigned sorrow that it falls to our lot, this week, to have to record the death of our worthy and most respected townsman, Beddoes Peacock, Esq., M.D., after a lingering illness of several months' duration. Born and bred in the place, he inherited, in no small degree, the abilities of his still more eminent father, on whose memory, which lives vividly in the recollection of most of us, the late deceased used to doat. For the last twenty-five years of his life—at the time of his death yet in its prime, for his years but just exceeded fifty—he had laboured, as most of our readers know, under a disease of the spine, which, whilst it totally incapacitated him from walking, happily, for suffering humanity, left him with his mental faculties unimpaired. Succeeding his late father, and possessing a sound knowledge of his Profession, he conducted under the signal disadvantage alluded to, a practice amongst the best in the neighbourhood, and soon acquired a portion of his father's fame. He was widely consulted, and possessed the confidence of his patients in a remarkable degree. He was of a stern integrity, and the opposer of pretension and charlatanism in whatever shape they appeared, as his sarcastic pen has, in former years, occasionally manifested. He had a quiet, though deep, fund of wit and humour, and was possessed of considerable literary attainments. Like his father, he was an ardent supporter of liberal principles. As a medical man he had few equals, whilst in private life he was a warm-hearted and attached friend. Though his recovery was from the first all but hopeless, his death, after enduring an amount of affliction that falls to the lot of few, has caused a void which will not be soon filled. His remains were followed to the grave by a very large number of persons, anxious to show the last tribute of respect to the memory of one who, emphatically, will be a 'missed man' amongst us."—Stockton and Darlington Times.

PERCIVAL, William Jones, M.R.C.S. Eng. 1829; L.S.A. 1821; at Bath-street, Birmingham.

PERRY, Richard Rogers, M.R.C.S. Eng. and L.S.A. 1841; suddenly, on June 28, at Hampstead, aged 36. The deceased gentleman was a son of the late R. R. Perry, M.R.C.S., of Andover, Hants, and succeeded in practice at Hampstead his late relative, Thomas Davis. Mr. Perry was universally beloved and respected, and at the time of his decease was rapidly rising into practice. Many friends mourn the loss of one who was cut off at the outset of what promised to be a career of usefulness and prosperity. Mr. Perry held several appointments, viz., Surgeon to the Hampstead Provident Dispensary, and to the District Branch of the United Provident Institution; Medical Referee of the Operatives' Branch of the Reciprocal Life Assurance Company; Surgeon to the Hampstead Division of the Metropolitan Police; Fellow of the North London Medical Society. Formerly Mr. Perry was House-Surgeon to St. Bartholomew's Hospital, and to the General Lying-in Hospital, York-road, Lambeth. He contributed to the Lancet, of 1842, "A Case of Puerperal Mania."

PERRY, William Bulkely, M.D., at Fakenham, Norfolk, on December 15, aged 82.

PHILLIPS, Thomas Grace, M.R.C.S. Eng. and L.S.A. 1828, on November 9, at 44, Albion-street, Hyde-park, aged 51.

PIERPOINT, Matthew, M.D., Aberdeen, 1822; M.R.C.S. Eng. 1812; F.R.C.L. (Hon.) 1843; at Crowneast, Worcestershire, after a long and painful illness, aged 64. Dr. Pierpoint was Surgeon to the Worcester General Infirmary, and since 1815 to the Worcester Militia.

PILCHER, George, M.R.C.S. Eng. 1824; F.R.C.S. (Hon.) 1843; suddenly, on November 7, of apoplexy, at 2, Harley-street, Cavendish-square, London, aged 54. Engaged in a specialty which naturally surrounded him with many competitors, it was the peculiar fortune of Mr. Pilcher to be exempted from the troubles which usually attend such a position, and he passed through life with the regard of his more immediate friends and the general esteem of the Profession. Few men in the Profession have been more beloved, or have received more distinct marks of confidence and respect. Highly honourable in all his dealings, of a benignant disposition and amiable manners, he was eminently qualified to attract the good-will he succeeded in gaining. Mr. Pilcher had been long well known to the Profession, having been, many years ago, the Lecturer on Anatomy and Physiology at the Webb-street School, at that time one of the best places of instruction in the metropolis. Mr. Pilcher passed his examination at the College of Surgeons in 1824, and became an Honorary Fellow in 1843. As an evidence of the esteem in which he was held, we may cite the fact that after the late charter was granted to the College, the Fellows elected Mr. Pilcher on the Council, and he continued to merit their confidence by pursuing a course of conduct both conciliatory and liberal, as well as qualified to maintain the best interests of the College. He held the appointment of Lecturer on Surgery at the St. George's School of Medicine, and was a Fellow of the London Medical Society, where his courtesy of manner and soundness of judgment will be long remembered. He formerly had the honour of occupying the chair of that Society. Mr. Pilcher was the author of an "Essay on the Physiology of the Excito-Motory System," which was published in the last volume of the Transactions of the Medical Society of London;" he also wrote a "Treatise on the Structure, Economy, and Diseases of the Ear," for which the Fothergillian Gold Medal was awarded. Mr. Pilcher had, previously to his death, been for a short time in ill health, and had suffered from attacks of dyspnœa, attended by congestion of the countenance, which led his friends to suspect that he laboured under heart disease. He was also subject to very severe attacks of headache. He was sitting at dinner on the day of his death, with two of his pupils, when he suddenly lost the use of his left hand, and his mouth was observed to be drawn on one side. Dr. C. J. B. Williams was sent for, and attended immediately. The patient was cupped, and had mustard applied to his feet, &c., but he soon became comatose, and died in about five hours and a half. He was buried in the family grave at Kensal-green. In addition to the members of the family who were followers, including Mr. Grainger, his brother-in-law, were Dr. Lankester, Mr. W. A. Harrison, Mr. Edward Evans, and Mr. Babbage. One of the chief mourners was the Rev. Robert Bickersteth, rector of St. Giles-in-the-Fields, who was originally educated for the Medical Profession, and was a house-pupil of Mr. Pilcher. The deceased gentleman was one of those men we could ill spare, for he has left few behind him of equal attainments and equal industry and rectitude. No man was more strictly just in his relations with his professional brethren, more studious of avoiding offence, and more desirous of giving every man his due. As an instance of his liberality in this respect, we may mention that immediately on the introduction of Mr. Yearsley's remedy of the Artificial Tympanum, in July, 1818, Mr. Pilcher acknowledged its importance, and gave full credit to that gentleman for his invention. Contrasting it with the modification of others, including that of gutta-percha membrane, Mr. Pilcher, in his latest "Essay on the Physiology of the Tympanum," says: "In my experience, the more complete closure of an aperture in the ulcerated membrane, by Mr. Toynbee's artificial membrane, has not been attended with such useful results as the imperfect closure by the wetted cotton introduced by Mr. Yearsley."

PINE, Chilley, 1st Class Staff Surgeon, late of the 4th Dragoon Guards, on March 6, at the residence of Mr. Anderson, in Balaklava, of typhus fever. His remains were interred on the 8th, at Balaklava; the whole of the 4th Dragoon Guards, officers, and men, headed by Colonel Hodge, followed his body to the grave, and a number of other officers paid his memory the same sad token of respect and esteem. He was a most independent, able, and active officer, and his loss will be severely felt.

He was also a Member, and survivor of the two founders of the Portsmouth and Portsea Literary Philosophical Society.

to the reputation which the Vienna school enjoyed as a place of study for the eye. A beautiful operator on this organ, his views on its pathology and therapeutics were those of a by-gone period, whereof he is one of the last supports.

STOKES, S. Surgeon, at Oxford.

STOKOE, William, Surgeon, of Hexham, Northumberland, lately, at Durham. The deceased gentleman was a relative by marriage of Professor Johnston, of Durham, who was suffering from disease which soon terminated his career. Mr. Stokoe being summoned to attend his friend, left Hexham a few days ago for Durham, at which place he arrived in perfect health, and having performed the melancholy duty of waiting upon his sick relative, he retired to rest under the same roof. At three in the morning, on being called to witness the signing of some legal document, he was found dead, having been seized with a fit of apoplexy. The learned Professor breathed his last two days afterwards. Such a peculiar manifestation of the uncertainty of human life has seldom occurred. Mr. Stokoe has not left any family; his wife died some few months ago. He was a gentleman of eminent attainments in his profession, and his loss will be much felt at Hexham, and that portion of Northumberland where he resided.

STRUTHERS, Alexander, L.R.C.S. and M.D. Edin. 1850; on January 20, at Scutari, aged 25. Dr. Struthers left the Royal Infirmary of Edinburgh in October 1854, for temporary service in the army of the East. Arriving at Scutari early in November, he was attached to the Barrack Hospital. His duties here were of a very laborious nature, and he was seized on Christmas-day with a severe attack of the fever prevalent in the then overcrowded hospital. Recovering from the first attack, a relapse took place, under which he sunk on January 20. He was attended in his illness by some of his oldest and most esteemed companions; one of whom (Dr. E. S. Wason) now lies buried beside him, on a height overlooking the Sea of Marmora. His attack is ascribed by his companions to over-exertion in his attention to the sick and wounded, among whom he laboured night and day with his characteristic zeal and cheerfulness. He was the son of the late Alexander Struthers, Esq., of Bruecfield, Fifeshire, the youngest of three brothers following the same profession, and a young man of great accomplishment and professional promise. The name of Dr. Alexander Struthers will be long remembered by those who have been connected with the Edinburgh School and Infirmary during the last eight years; and by his more immediate friends his memory will be cherished with lasting affection.

THOMPSON, George, M.D., and M.R.C.S. Edin. 1845; Certifying Factory Surgeon; in February, at Padiham, Lancashire.

THOMPSON, James Bowen, M.D., on August 5, at the Hospital, Kululee, Constantinople, of malignant typhoid fever, aged 41. This gentleman caught fever at Balaklava. For some days the symptoms were moderate. The doctor proceeded to sea, in the hope that a change of air might check the disorder. The ship was on her way to Scutari with invalids. Just as the vessel anchored another attack came on, so serious as to excite alarm. He himself, however, still clung to hope, observing that he should be well the moment he got on shore. The Medical Receiving Officer, as a matter of course, proceeded on board to take the names of all the wounded, and such others as were appointed to land. But Dr. Thompson was not among them, and hence he was passed over. There he lay, helpless, and all but hopeless. Application was made to the Medical Officer, who stated that he could not receive him without an order from the admiral or the ambassador! There was no time to send either to the admiral or to the ambassador. It only remained for Dr. Thompson to enter a protest before he expired. He said, "This will be my death. Is there not one vacant bed for me among the five or six hundred unoccupied? I who have come to devote my life to the cause, am I refused admission by a brother officer because I am a civilian? My blood will be upon their heads." At length, after a delay of thirty-six hours, he was removed into Kululee Hospital, were death speedily put an end to his sufferings.—Government has determined to grant a pension to the mother of Dr. James Thompson. There is nothing finer in the history of chivalry than the conduct of this late noble member of our profession to the wounded after the battle of the Alma.

THOMPSON, Joseph George, M.R.C.S. Eng. and L.S.A. 1848; of St. Mahyn, Cornwall; on August 26, of pulmonary consumption, at Plymouth, aged 29. In addition to an amiable disposition, Mr. Thompson had the advantage of a superior education, and his scientific and professional attainments were far above mediocity.

THOMSON, John, L.R.C.S. and L.M. Edin.; at the Londonderry County Infirmary, of which he was House-Surgeon.

TOD, David, M.R.C.S. Eng., 1821; L.S.A. 1823; on September 26, at his residence, 5, Upper Fitzroy-street, Fitzroy-square, aged 62. Mr. Tod was Author of—1. "The Anatomy and Physiology of the Organ of Hearing;" 2. "A Brief Essay on the Nature and Treatment of Hernia," 6th edit.; "On the Hatching of the Egg of the Common Fowl," Lancet, 1846 and 1848; 3. "A Disquisition on certain Parts and Properties of the Blood."

TOMLINSON, Edward, M.R.C.S. Eng., and L.S.A. 1842; of Oxford-street, Manchester: on May 24th, at Stoke Cottage, Nantwich, Cheshire, aged 36. Mr. Tomlinson was Surgeon to the Manchester Royal Infirmary.

TURLEY, Edward Astbury, L.R.C.P., M.R.C.S. Eng. 1826; L.S.A. 1825; suddenly, of disease of the heart, at Ivy House, Worcester. For some time past the health of Dr. Turley had been far from robust; and although both mind and body apparently required rest, the active habits of the deceased impelled him to pay full attention to the requirements of an extensive practice, while, as we learn, the nourishment he took was utterly disproportionate to the severe strain upon his energies. On Tuesday afternoon he was driven in his gig to the residence of the Rev. John Vernon, at Himbleton, from whence he returned about half-past eight in the evening, having complained more than usually of the fatigue and exhaustion under which he was labouring. He remained with his family till between ten and eleven o'clock, when he retired to the library, as was his custom before going to bed. About two minutes afterwards Mrs. Turley followed him into the library, having a bed candle, for the purpose of retiring with him, when she found him in a fainting condition on the sofa. She immediately gave an alarm, and Mr. Bishop, Surgeon, was sent for, and arrived in less than ten minutes, but the deceased had breathed his last. The melancholy intelligence excited the deepest sorrow in Worcester, and the inhabitants of St. John's paid respect to his memory by closing their shutters every day since the fatal occurrence until his interment. An inquest was held by J. B. Hyde, Esq., at the Swan Inn, St. John's, when the Jury returned a verdict of "Died by the Visitation of God, from exhaustion." Dr. Turley died in his fifty-second year, and left a widow and three children, all daughters: of their sorrow it would be vain to speak. An aged mother also survives him, to mourn the loss of a son indeed. He laboured among us in his arduous profession for nearly a quarter of a century, and with great success. Few practitioners kept up their reading so effectually as the deceased, and among many intimate friends in the Medical Profession we have never met with one more zealous in the cause of science. We can conscientiously say, in reviewing the long roll of departed hours from the commencement of our acquaintance, that we remember none entirely wasted in mere gossip or loose persiflage, and we do not remember to have passed an hour in his company without some discussion on one or other of the more worthy objects of human speculation. Moreover, we can speak of the deceased as a sincere friend, and kind neighbour, and as one whose professional services were ever at the call of the poor. He took a decided interest in the promotion of education; nor could any man rejoice more at the progress of intelligence now so visible on every side. And now that his warm heart is cold, and his manly frame has returned to dust, it is our privilege to believe that his sanguine aspirations for the advancement of his species have not ceased, although enlarged into the certain knowledge of those that have entered into that land where there is fulness of light.—Worcester Herald.——It is with much sorrow that we record the decease of a warm friend. We can bear testimony to the truthfulness of the eulogium quoted from the Worcester Herald. Dr. Turley was a gentleman of generous and friendly feelings, and devoted himself with much earnestness to scientific pursuits. He advocated with constant zeal the doctrines taught by Dr. Stevens, whom he held in high admiration; and one of his latest lectures on these doctrines has been recently published in the Medical Circular. His decease was sudden, and is said to be owing to disease of the heart. He will be regretted by many attached friends. He was a Fell. Ethnol. Soc. and his literary labours are thus recorded in the Medical Directory :—Fell. Ethnol. Soc.; Author of a "Biographical Sketch of the late Dr. Gall," Paris; of Lectures "On Hybernation of Animals;" "On Medical Statistics;" "On the Human Skeleton;" of a course of Fifteen Lectures "On the Anatomy, Human and Comparative, of the Brain and Nervous System;" "First Lines of Education, Mental and Physical." Contrib. a Series of Letters "On Asiatic Cholera, and the Saline Treatment."

TWEEDIE, Thomas, Physician-General H.E.I.C.S., J.P., and Deputy Lieutenant of the County of Peebles (of Quarter), at Rachan House, Peeblesshire, on November 12th.

TWIGG, Samuel Cambell, Surgeon, at Winlaton, Durham, on September 30, 1854, of hydro-thorax.

Dr. Tyler was Physician to the National Eye Infirmary and General Dispensary, Cuffe-street, Dublin; late Lecturer on Midwifery Original School of Medicine, Dublin; Member of Surgical, Obstetrical, and other Societies, both Irish and Foreign. He also contributed to the Med. Journals a paper on "Placenta Prævia," "Remarks on the Use of the Forceps, and Cases;" also, "Lectures on Midwifery," commenced in the British Record of Obstetric Medicine, together with "Reports of Cases," Med. Times.

UNDERHILL, Thomas, M.R.C.S. Eng. 1813; at Brookbank Villa, Cheltenham.

VALLEIX, J., M.D., Physician to the Pitie Hospital at Paris, on July 12, at Rue Richer 26, of diphtheritic quinsy, after five days' illness, aged 47. The deceased, who was highly esteemed in the French capital, fell a victim to an attack of croup (fatal in five days)—an affection which he contracted from a patient whom he was attending. This death occurs shortly after that of two resident-surgeons of hospitals, who died a little time since in consequence of dissecting wounds. Dr. Valleix had lately been an advocate, before the Academy of Medicine, of mechanical treatment for uterine deviations; and had improved on Dr. Simpson's instruments. He was physician to the hospital of La Pitié, and author of the following works:—1. "The Guide of the Medical Practitioner," in five volumes—a standard book, one of the best compendiums of modern times. 2. "A Treatise on Neuralgia." 3. "Clinical Remarks on the Diseases of New-born Children." Both the latter works are much prized in France, and it is greatly to be regretted that so accomplished a physician and so estimable a man should be suddenly cut off at the moment he was rapidly rising in his profession. Discourses of the most touching kind were delivered at the funeral, by some of the friends of the deceased.

WALKER, Benjamin, M.R.C.S. Eng. 1805; at Westgate End, Wakefield, Yorkshire.

WALSH, Charles Robert, M.R.C.S. Eng. 1831; L.S.A. 1840; on September 9, at 42, Half-Moon-street, Piccadilly, aged 47. Mr. Walsh was born in Devonshire, in 1808; he was educated at Westminster, where he imbibed a taste for classical literature, which he retained to the last. He began his Medical career at the age of 16, by apprenticeship to Mr. Peregrine, of Mount-street, and became, in due course, a pupil of St. George's Hospital, and a house-pupil of Mr. Cæsar Hawkins. After completing his curriculum, he had the good fortune to travel for some years as domestic Medical attendant to various noblemen, including Lords Berwick and W. Russell. Thus he visited Egypt, Greece, Italy, and other lands teeming with classic and historical associations, under the best auspices, and with opportunities of mixing in the best society. On his return to England he married the daughter of John Watson, Esq., a well-known and able practitioner in Berners-street, who also held the office of Secretary to the Court of Examiners of the Society of Apothecaries, and to the Society for the Relief of Widows and Orphans of Medical Men in the Metropolis and its Vicinity. In due time he succeeded Mr. Watson in his practice, and the office of Secretary to the "Medical Widows and Orphans' Society," which he held up to the time of his death. Very shortly after his establishment in London, we find him assisting Dr. Doneier, a man of congenial refinement and literary habits, in the Editorship of the Medical Gazette, to which he contributed a great number of "leaders," on Medical Politics, Medical Education, Gratuitous Practice, and similar subjects. He was an early and most energetic member of the Sanitary Association, and subsequently of the Epidemiological Society. He was noted for his interest in all questions relating to Public Health, Education, and Morals. He was employed by the Board of Health as Sanitary Inspector of certain districts in Bermondsey, Lambeth, and Westminster, during the epidemics of cholera in 1850 and 1854; and became deeply interested in a neglected and pestilential district in Bermondsey, called "Jacob's Island," devoting much time to visiting it, and endeavouring to improve the condition of its miserable population. He gave Lectures at various institutions, on Ventilation and other means for the preservation of health, and was a Member of the Council of Teachers of the Working Men's College, Red Lion square, where he had a class for instruction in Hygiene and Physiology; in fact, he was intimately associated with almost all the attempts made of late years to improve the mental and material condition of the labouring classes. In 1854, after having spent, in the exhausting duties of Sanitary Inspector in cholera districts, that portion of the autumn which most of us devote to change of air and relaxation, the symptoms of his disease became intensely aggravated, and slowly progressing, at last proved fatal. We shall not enter into a history of the Medical portion of the case, but may observe here, that epithelioma of the bladder was diagnosticated during life, and found after death. It is curious how many members of our Profession have perished of analogous disease,—Bransby Cooper, Reid, Don, are names that readily occur to us. Mr. Walsh was the most unselfish of men, and the most considerate. His conversation sparkled with elegant wit and classical allusion; and never did so graceful a conversationalist study to give so little pain to others. He could always be relied on. He was the very soul of truthfulness and honour. In a long and painful illness he showed the greatest resignation and cheerfulness, and no man was ever removed from the scene of his earthly labours with more of the affectionate regard of all with whom he was associated.

WARDEN, William, M.D., Assistant-Surgeon, 74th Highlanders, at Pordwastrutton, near Mingalore, Madras, on October 14, 1854.

WARNE, John, Surgeon, at Margate.

WASON, Edmund Sidney, M.D., Edin. 1850; M.R.C.S. Eng. 1851; L.M.R.C.S. Eng. 1852; Ext. Member Royal Edinburgh Medical Society, and Member of the Paris Medical Society (late of Surbiton, Surrey), on February 7, at Scutari, of fever. "Dr. Wason proceeded to Scutari in November, and was untiring in his attention to the sick and wounded in the Barrack Hospital. He was one of several Edinburgh Surgeons who earned distinction there by the mode in which they discharged their too laborious duties. Dr. Wason had but shortly before watched by the bedside, and closed the eyes, of his fellow-labourer and attached friend, Dr. Alexander Struthers, whose lot was so soon to become his own. He died of an attack of the same typhoid fever, after five days' illness. Dr. Wason was well known here as a talented and accomplished student and graduate of our University, and a young man of great promise. He possessed that high spirit and humour, and all those excellent qualities of head and heart which secured the love and esteem of friends, and which, with his thorough knowledge of his Profession, bade so fair to raise him to high eminence in it. The grave has closed prematurely over these hopes; but he has died nobly in the fearless discharge of duties not less attended by danger than those of the soldier on the battle-field."—Edinburgh Courant.

WATMOUGH, John Smithson, L.R.C.S. Edin. on October 13, of fever, caught in the discharge of his professional duties, at Pocklington, Yorkshire.

WATTS, Thomas, Sen., M.R.C.S. Eng. 1814; on September 13, at Frampton-on-Severn. The President of the Frampton Mechanics' Institute, addressed a letter to the Gloucestershire Chronicle, expressing, on behalf of the institution, a warm tribute to the memory of the late Mr. T. Watts. "He was one of the greatest benefactors in the neighbourhood in which he lived," is a sentence forming a portion of this letter. No encomium can be more comprehensive.

WAUGH, John, M.D., of Leamington Spa, on May 19, at the residence of the Rev. E. Bates, Bishops' Itchington, Warwickshire, after a painful and protracted illness.

WEBSTER, Arthur Charles, Surgeon, of 10th Hussars, on December 15, 1854, at Bombay. The deceased was the youngest son of the late Richard Webster, Esq., Surgeon, of the 4th R. I. Dragoon Guards, and was deeply regretted by his brother officers, who have erected a monument to his memory.

WILKINSON, George, Surgeon, late of 1, North-crescent, Bedford-square.

WILLAN, J., Surgeon, at Kirkby Lonsdale, Westmoreland.

WILLIAMS, William Francis, in practice prior to 1815; District Medical Officer, on February 8, at North Frodingham, Yorkshire. The deceased gentleman was returning home from visiting a patient, in a gig by himself, and was last seen alive between eight and nine o'clock. His gig and horse were discovered early on the morning of the 9th by some men going to their work; his body, stiff and cold, was lying under the gig in a deep drain on the road side, the drain being almost filled with snow. Thus terminated the life of a man who had laboured hard in his profession for upwards of forty years.

WILSON, Francis, M.R.C.S. Eng. and L.S.A. 1829; on March 20, at his residence, Norton-street, Liverpool. After having been for several years Assistant to Sir John Fife, of Newcastle-on-Tyne, he went to Liverpool in the year 1831, and at the time of his death was in extensive practice. He was much respected by the Medical Profession and a large circle of private friends.

WILSON, John, Surgeon to the York Dispensary, after a lingering illness at York, on November 8, aged 72. Mr. Wilson was a native of York, where his family occupied a position of great respectability, his brother having been for several years a proctor in the Ecclesiastical Court. He commenced his professional career as pupil of the late Mr. O. Allen, who was a medical attendant of the dispensary from its origin in 1788. When the term of his apprenticeship had expired, he was elected House-Surgeon of the County Hospital, where he remained near six years, until he married, which obliged him to vacate that situation. Mr. Allen having a few months previously resigned his post as apothecary to the dispensary, after twenty years' service, Mr. Wilson was, in May, 1809, unanimously appointed the resident medical attendant of the charity, an office which he held up to the time of his death, a period of above forty-six years. He lived to see the institution with which they had been so long connected not only firmly established and flourishing, but also one of the most popular charities in York; and, although possessed of ample pecuniary resources, he devoted himself from choice to the service of the diseased and distressed poor of the city and neighbourhood, which his sound practical knowledge enabled him so efficiently to perform. His loss is felt not alone by the poor of York, but also by those members of the Medical Profession with whom he was more particularly connected by the ties of friendship and early association. Mr. Wilson was the senior member of the Profession in the city.

WILSON, William James, M.R.C.S. Eng. 1813; F.R.C.S. (Hon.) 1843; of Clairville, Oxford-road, Manchester, on July 19, at Tickwood, near Wellington, Salop. Mr. Wilson was Senior Surgeon to the Manchester Royal Infirmary, and Consulting-Surgeon to the Female Penitentiary, and ormerly to the Eye Hospital. By the death of Mr. Wilson, the Profession has lost one of its brightest ornaments, the practitioner a true friend, and the students a most cheerful instructor.

WISHART, James Anderson, M.D., Staff-Surgeon, at Scutari, on May 25. The deceased gentleman was the second son of the late J. H. Wishart, F.R.C.S.

WORSHIP, Henry, M.R.C.S. Eng. and L.S.A. 1829; Surgeon to the Borough Gaol; at Great Yarmouth.

Dr. Young was formerly in the H.E.I.C.S., and held the appointments of Medical Officer to the Walsingham Union, and Local Secretary to the Sydenham Society.

YOUNG, Peter, Surgeon, on October 30, 1854, at Hong Kong, aged 42.

YOUNG, Robert, who filled for many years the office of Physician to His Highness the Nawab of Bengal, on November 15, 1854, at Berampore, of cerebral congestion, brought on by his assiduity in attending upon some poor patients while he was himself suffering from fever. His funeral was very numerously attended by rich and poor, for he was beloved, and is regretted by all classes. He will be long remembered in the district where he lived, not only on account of his professional and social qualities, but for his skill and daring in the chase. In 1851 Mr. Young was sent on a mission to this country, with magnificent presents from the prince for Her Majesty, which were exhibited in the India Department of the Great Exhibition. Mingled with these might be seen some of Mr. Young's numerous trophies of the chase. He was nephew to Dr. Thomas Young, celebrated for his brilliant discoveries in science and hieroglyphics, and was brother to Mr. Thomas Young, Surgeon, of Sackville-street.

YOUNG, Thomas, Surgeon, at Ramsgate.

His late Majesty King William IV, when Duke of Clarence, insured his life in the ALBION, on the non-participating scale, and died at the age of seventy-two, his payments having exceeded the sum insured. On the other hand, there are but too many instances, in which the advantages of Life Insurance over every other means of providing against uncertain contingencies are strikingly shown. The destruction of the "Amazon" steamship furnishes a painful example. The celebrated Author of 'The Crescent and the Cross,' who perished on that awful occasion, had insured his life in the ALBION only two days before he sailed, little anticipating how soon the value of the insurance would be realised.

MUTUAL BRANCH.

Assurers on the Bonus system are entitled, at the end of five years, to participate in four-fifths, or 80 per cent. of the profits.

The Profit assigned to each Policy can be added to the sum assured, applied in reduction of the annual premium, or be received in cash.

At the first division a return of 20 per cent. in cash on the premiums paid was declared; this will allow a reversionary increase varying according to age, from 66 to 28 per cent. on the premiums, or from 5 to 15 per cent. on the sum assured.

One-half of the "whole-term" premium may remain on credit for seven years, or one-third of the premium may remain for life as a debt upon the policy at 5 per cent., or may be paid off at any time without notice.

Claims paid in One Month after proofs have been approved.

Loans upon approved security.

NO CHARGE FOR POLICY STAMPS.

Medical Attendants paid for their reports.

Persons may, in time of peace, proceed to, or reside in, any part of Europe or British North America, without extra charge.

The Medical Officers attend every day at Throgmorton-street, at a quarter before Two o'clock.

LIFE DEPARTMENT.

Persons Assured for the whole term of Life, for £100 and upwards, in Great Britain or Ireland respectively, will have an ADDITION made to their policies every FIFTH YEAR (instead of every seventh, as heretofore), or an equivalent reduction will be made in the future payments of Premium, at the option of the Assured.

Policies may also be effected for the whole term of Life by payments yearly or half-yearly, also by a limited number of yearly payments, a mode of assurance which originated with this Company in 1816.

ASSURANCES FOR SHORT PERIODS may now be effected in this Office at considerably reduced rates of Premium.

The next VALUATION will be made at Christmas, 1859; and Policies which may be effected before that date will, if the parties be then alive, participate in proportion to the time they may then have been in force.

The following Statement of SUMS PAID on various Policies, which Statement is printed with the consent of the Representatives of the Claimants, exhibits the BONUS or ADDITIONS which ATTACHED THERETO respectively, and confirms the very satisfactory result of the principles on which the Company's business is conducted, viz.—

The Directors of the British Mutual Life Assurance Society, in order to encourage parties desirous of making small investments, or obtaining loans from 25*l.* to 1,000*l.*, beg to invite attention to the

which have been established upon the following principles:—

Each Class consists of Members, who each subscribe 1*l.* per month for fifty months for every £50 of the Capital Fund or Stock of the Class to which he belongs. Each Member to subscribe not less than 10s (for £25), nor more than £5 (for £250) per month.

The funds so raised are advanced each month by way of anticipation to that Member who may be willing to give the greatest bonus for the priority of the advance—i.e., for receiving at once, instead of waiting till he has completed his subscriptions, the ultimate amount of the sum he may subscribe for, such bonus to be paid in equal monthly proportions extending over the remaining period of duration of his Class.

The Member so entitling himself to the priority will simply have to give a Bond, joined by two approved sureties, or, if more convenient to himself, such other security as shall be approved by the Trustees of his Class for the due payment of his future subscription and bonus.

Several Classes have been already established, and others are now in course of formation, and will shortly commence operation. Persons desirous of joining, or of obtaining any further information, may apply at the Offices of the British Mutual Life Assurance Society, 17, New Bridge-street, Blackfriars.

CHURCH OF ENGLAND
LIFE AND FIRE ASSURANCE INSTITUTION.

HEAD OFFICE—5, LOTHBURY, LONDON.

(Empowered by Special Act of Parliament, 4 and 5 Vic., Cap. 2.)

SUBSCRIBED CAPITAL, ONE MILLION.

A List of the Proprietors periodically Enrolled in the High Court of Chancery.

LIFE DEPARTMENT.

This Institution adopts both the Proprietary and Mutual systems of Life Assurance, and the Policy-holders in both branches are fully protected by the large Subscribed Capital of the Company.

In the Proprietary Branch, Assurances are granted at the lowest Rates of Premium consistent with the security of the Establishment. Such Assurances may be effected in a great variety of ways, to suit the circumstances and convenience of the Assured. Among others, where the Policy is made payable "On the Assured attaining Sixty years of age, or at Death, if that event should happen previously," is particularly deserving of attention.

In the Mutual Branch of this Institution, the Policy-holders are entitled to the entire Profits of the Branch, which are divided at the expiration of every fifth year. These profits may be applied either in reduction of the yearly premiums until the ensuing period of division, or in additions to the sums assured.

Prospective allowances are at each division set apart for those Policy-holders who are not immediately entitled to participate in the profits, but who will have paid five yearly premiums before the next ensuing division; thus affording to the Assured all the advantages of an Annual Division of Profits.

ASSURANCES may be effected on Lives, Survivorships, &c., &c., as stated in the Society's Prospectus, to any amount not exceeding 5,000*l.*

An unusually large Bonus was declared on the 1st of June, 1851, and on the 1st of June, 1856, another division of profits will take place. The whole available Bonus is the sole property of Life Assurers, no part whatever is taken from it to be shared amongst proprietors. The greatest advantage to Life Assurers necessarily results from this principle of Mutual Assurance, that at the end of every fifth year return is made to every Assurer of that which is then found to be an excess of payment made by him, beyond that which the circumstances of the case required, as proved by experience.

Applications for Prospectuses, or further information, to be made at the Office, 3, BROAD SANCTUARY, WESTMINSTER.

"This Society is strictly confined to the Clergy of the Church of England and of the Episcopal Church of Scotland, their wives and families, and the near relations of themselves and wives, and is distinguished from other Institutions by the title of

The Equitable Society has now been established for very nearly a century,—was the first institution of the kind ever formed on the principle of mutual liability and mutual benefit,—and few institutions have been attended with such uniform success and prosperity throughout a period of equal duration, or more completely realized the intentions of their founders. Commencing its career for the express purpose of securing to "great numbers of persons in particular situations of life and circumstances of fortune" the benefit of life assurance, it has provided comforts and competence that could not otherwise have been rendered certain, to many thousands of families;—nor ever, but in two instances, disputed a claim out of its numerous and vast engagements, the extent of which may be gathered from the fact of its having issued above Thirty-nine Thousand Policies since its commencement, and paid in claims, bonuses, and the purchase of policies upwards of Twenty-nine Millions Sterling.

To those desirous of assuring their lives for the same great object for which thousands have resorted to it in times past, the Equitable Society still offers the security of an immense Capital, and the right to participate on equal terms with most of its present members in a Surplus reserved out of the profits and accumulations of many preceding years of prosperity and frugality—a fund so ample, that the annual interest on it is more than six times the amount of the yearly expenses of management of every kind, and leaves the premium of every new member to be invested and improved free from any deduction or charge on that account.

The Capital of the Society, on the 30th of June, 1855, amounted to £7,184,446; and the Income of the Society from the Interest on that Capital, and from Annual Premiums, exceeds £400,000.

This Society is established on the tried and approved principle of Mutual Assurance. The funds are accumulated for the exclusive benefit of the Policy-holders, under their own immediate superintendence and control. The Profits are divided annually, and applied in reduction of the current Premiums. Policy-holders participate in Profits after payment of five Annual Premiums.

The Annual General Meeting of this Society was held on the 30th May, 1855, when a Report of the business for the last year was presented, exhibiting a statement of most satisfactory progress. It appeared that during the last two years, 1853 and 1854, between 800 and 900 new Assurances had been effected, producing an increase of Premium income amounting to 14,000*l.* per annum. It also appeared that, notwithstanding the extraordinary mortality which prevailed during the last year in consequence of the visitation of the cholera, it had not been found necessary to reduce, in the slightest, the allowance previously awarded to the Policy-holders.

The Members present at the Meeting were fully satisfied with the Report, and resolved unanimously that a reduction of 31½ per cent. should be made in the current year's Premium payable by all Policy-holders now entitled to participate in the Profits.

Credit is allowed for half the Annual Premiums for the first five years.

The following Table exemplifies the effect of the present reduction.

Age when Assured.	Amount Assured.	Annual Premium originally paid.			Allowance of 31½ per cent.			Annual Premium now payable.

This Office will be found highly eligible for every description of Life Assurance, its main features being the publicity of its accounts, and the systematic readiness of its transactions.

Perfect Security is guaranteed by an ample paid-up capital, subscribed by persons of the highest character and respectability. The Company moreover being under public Act of Parliament, official copies of its accounts may be readily had at the Government Registrar's, on payment of the usual record fee.

Policies may be effected without loss of time, formalities being carried through at the office every day, from ten to four; Saturdays, ten to two; medical officer daily at eleven. The Board assembles on Thursdays at half-past twelve.

A great portion of the Society's Policies are upon first-class lives, but the Company being specifically established to include the Insurance of individuals of regular and temperate habits, in whom health may be more or less impaired, the Board openly seek to transact business of this class at equitable rates, founded upon a careful consideration of these cases. Lives of this description, declined at some offices, are accordingly open to acceptance at the Gresham.

Loans may be obtained in connexion with Policies effected with the Company. The Directors have advanced in this respect upwards of £175,000 to the members since July, 1848.

The range covered by English Rates in times of Peace, and under ordinary circumstances, is North of Gibraltar and Philadelphia.

N.B. Active and influential persons will be appointed as agents on liberal terms, in districts where the Society is not already sufficiently represented.

LIFE DEPARTMENT.

Medical Fees allowed by this Company.

Under the provisions of an Act of Parliament this Company now offers to future Insurers FOUR-FIFTHS OF THE PROFITS, WITH QUINQUENNIAL DIVISION, or a LOW RATE OF PREMIUM, without participation of Profits.

The next division of Profits will be declared in June 1860, when all Participating Policies which shall have subsisted at least one year at Christmas, 1859, will be allowed to share in the Profits.

At the Five Divisions of Profits made by this Company the total Reversionary Bonuses added to the Policies have exceeded 913,000*l.*

At Christmas last the Assurances in force amounted to upwards of 4,240,000*l.*, the Income from the Life Branch in 1854 was more than 200 000*l.*, and the Life Assurance Fund (independent of the Guarantee Capital) exceeded 1,700,000*l.*

LOANS granted on Life Policies to the extent of their values, provided such Policies shall have been effected a sufficient time to have attained in each case a value not under 50*l.*

UNSOUND LIVES.—Persons who are not in such sound health as would enable them to insure their lives at the Tabular Premiums, may be insured at such extra Premium as the Directors may deem adequate to the increased risk thereby incurred.

Every Renewable Policy is held in force during the 30 days allowed for its renewal, provided the Premium shall be paid within that period.

A Policy taken out on Own Life is held to be valid in case of suicide, death by duelling, or by the hands of justice, to the extent of any bona fide interest acquired therein by other parties.

Age admitted in all cases upon proof being furnished satisfactory to the Directors.

Appearances taken any day, but the usual day of appearance Is Friday, at one o'clock.

Appearances also taken by appointed Agents of the Company in most parts of the United Kingdom and Continent of Europe, without Fine for non-appearance in London.

No additional Premium required from Naval and Military Men, unless when called Into actual service.

No additional Premium required during peace for passing by sea from one part of Europe to another.

No charge made for Entrance Money or Admission Fees.

No charge for Policies.

FOREIGN RISKS.—The extra Premiums required for the East and West Indies, the British Colonies, and the Northern parts of the United States of America, have been materially reduced.

In the FIRE DEPARTMENT, Insurances are effected upon moderate terms; and no charge is made for the Policy.

LIFE DEPARTMENT.—The important advantages offered by the plan and constitution of the Life Department of this Society are:

That Insurers are protected by a large invested Capital, upon which there is no Interest to pay, and for which no deduction of any kind is made; which enables the Directors to give the whole of the Profits to insuring Members. That the Profits are divided annually amongst all Members of five years' standing, and applied towards reducing Life Insurance to the lowest possible rates of Premium.

The abatement of Premium on all Policies of five years' standing was in 1842, 1843, and 1844 at the rate of 45*l.* per cent. in each year; in 1845, 1846, 1847, and 1848, 50*l.* per cent in each year; and in 1849, 1850, 1851, 1852, 1853, 1854, and 1855, 52*l.* 10*s.* per cent. in each year; and it is expected that an equal abatement will in future be annually made.

Persons insuring their own lives, or the lives of others, may become members. Persons who are willing to forego participation in the profits can insure at a lower rate than that charged to Members.

The following Table will show the effect of the Reduction of Premium made by the Society on Members' Policies that have been five years in force:

Age when Insured.	Sum Insured.	Annual Premium for first Five Years.			Reduced Premium.
30	100	2	13	5	1	5	6
40	100	3	7	11	1	12	3
30	500	13	7	1	6	7	0
40	500	16	19	7	8	1	3
45	1,000	38	19	2	18	10	1
40	2,000	67	18	4	32	5	2
45	5,000	194	15	10	92	10	6

This system of reducing the Premiums affords immediate benefit to the Members, and enables them to insure a further sum upon their lives equal to more than one-third of the present policy, without any additional outlay.

No charge for Policy Stamps.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

Insurances are effected on every description of property at the usual rates.

The income from the Premium Fund of this Company is nearly 110,000*l.* per annum, and the investments exceed 37 per cent. of the sums insured.

The Scale of Premiums adopted will be found of a very moderate character, but at the same time quite adequate to the risk incurred.

Four-fifths, or 80 per cent. of the Profits are assigned to Policies every fifth year, and may be applied to increase the sum insured to an immediate payment in cash, or to the reduction and ultimate extinction of future Premiums.

One-third of the Premium on Insurances of 500*l.* and upwards, for the whole term of life, may remain as a debt upon the Policy, to be paid off at convenience; or the Directors will lend sums of 50*l.* and upwards, on the security of Policies effected with this Company for the whole term of life, when they have acquired an adequate value.

Insurances, without participation in Profits, may be effected at reduced rates. SAMUEL INGALL, Actuary.

This is a LARGER BUSINESS (both as regards the Number of Policies and the Total Sums Assured) than any other Scotch Assurance Institution has transacted during the same period; and only very few of the English Companies have reached it.

The TRANSACTIONS since the commencement of the business amount to upwards of THREE MILLION THREE HUNDRED THOUSAND POUNDS assured on 8,200 Lives; and the Income is ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND POUNDS per Annum.

The ASSETS and LIABILITIES have been valued in detail in the most careful and scrupulous manner, and there remained at the date of the Balance a large Surplus or Profit, divisible amongst Policy-holders of five years' standing—the share of each to be handed to him IN MONEY at the payment of his next year's premium. Accordingly all Participating Policy-holders of the First Series, who entered on or before 5th April 1851, will be required to pay only 13s. per £1 of this year's premiums (due between 5th April 1855 and 6th April 1856).

Life Department.

This Corporation has granted Assurances on Lives for a period exceeding 130 years, having issued its first policy on the 7th June, 1721.

Two-thirds, or 66 per cent. of the entire profits are given to the Assured.

Policies may be opened under any of the following plans, viz.—

At a low rate of premium, without participation in profits, or at a somewhat higher rate, entitling the Assured, either after the first five years, to an annual abatement of premium for the remainder of life, or, after payment of the first premium, to a participation in the ensuing quinquennial Bonus.

The abatement for the year 1856 on the Annual Premiums of persons who have been assured under Series "1831" for five years or longer, is upwards of 31 per cent.

The high character which this ancient Corporation has maintained during nearly a century and a half, secures to the public a full and faithful declaration of profits.

The Corporation bears the whole expenses of management, thus giving to the Assured, conjoined with the protection afforded by its Corporate Fund, advantages equal to those of any system of Mutual Assurance.

Premiums may be paid Yearly, Half-yearly, or Quarterly.

All Policies are issued free from Stamp Duty, or from charge of any description whatever, beyond the Premium.

The attention of the Public is especially called to the great advantages offered to Life Assurers by the Legislature in its recent enactments, by which it will be found that to a defined extent Life Premiums are not subject to Income-tax.

The fees of Medical Referees are paid by the Corporation.

Annuities are granted by the Corporation, payable Half-yearly.

Every facility will be given for the transfer or exchange of Policies, or any other suitable arrangement will be made for the convenience of the Assured.

Prospectuses and all other information may be obtained by either a written or personal application to the Actuary or to the Superintendent of the West-End Office. JOHN LAURENCE, Secretary.

Policies never disputed in the absence of wilful fraud; they are a sure and safe provision for settlements, renewal of leases, security of debts, &c.

The Medical Attendant consulted as the Medical Adviser and Examiner of the Society, and awarded a fee of £2 2s., when the sum assured amounts to £250, and £1 1s. when under that sum. The Medical Practitioner also receives for business introduced by him the usual commission of ten per cent. on the first payment, and five per cent. on the payments of subsequent years.

The Society also claims the support of the Medical Profession on the following grounds:—

1. For several years the "Medical, Legal, and General," was the only MUTUAL Life Assurance Society connected with the Medical Profession.
2. The rates are lower than those of any other Medical Life Office.
3. Persons desirous of Assuring Diseased or Rejected Lives will find that from the experience acquired by this Society it is enabled to accept such lives at rates both equitable and safe.
4. From the outset the expenses of management have been kept within the narrowest limit, consistent with the efficient working of the establishment.

Annuities, endowments, and every form of assurance contingent upon Life transacted at moderate rates.

This Society has been established forty-seven years, during which period it has issued 29,344 Policies, and paid to the Representatives of 5,558 deceased members upwards of 4,500,000*l.*; and 1,934,342*l.* sterling has been assigned by way of Bonuses.

To meet existing engagements, the Society possesses funds amounting to nearly TWO MILLIONS TWO HUNDRED THOUSAND POUNDS STERLING, almost wholly invested on Real and Government Securities.

The rates of Premium are below those of most Offices, and at the age of 45 and upwards, not less so than 10 per cent., a benefit equivalent to an Annual Bonus.

There is no Proprietary to divide with the Assured the profits of this Institution, which is one of the very few purely Mutual Insurance Offices. In addition, however, to the entire profits of the Society, persons now effecting Insurances will be entitled to participate in the Benefits to be derived from the Reserve Fund, now exceeding 200,000*l.*, and which, while affording all the protection of a Proprietary Capital, will at the same time increase instead of diminish their future Bonuses.

One-half of the first five Annual Premiums may remain as a permanent charge upon the Policies granted for the whole duration of life.

Annuities are granted upon favourable terms.

Insurances are granted by this Society on buildings, goods, merchandise, and effects, ships in port, harbour, or dock, from loss or damage by Fire in any part of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

It is provided by the constitution of the Society that the Insured shall be free from all responsibility; and to guarantee the engagements of the Office, a fund of 550,000*l.* has been subscribed by a numerous and opulent Proprietary; which fund has been further increased by the accumulation of an additional reserve, now amounting to 96,800*l.* Returns of Three-fifths of the Profits of the Company are periodically made to parties insuring, who have thus from time to time received from the Society sums amounting in the aggregate to nearly 380,000*l.*

The returns are made upon all Policies, whether in existence at the date of the returns or not, and whether issued for a year or any shorter period.

The rates of Premium are in no case higher than those charged by the other principal Offices, making no returns to their Insurers.

The business of the Company exceeds 63,000,000*l.*, and, owing to the liberality with which its engagements have been performed, is rapidly increasing. The duty paid to Government for the year 1854 was 74,766*l.* 0s. 4d.; and the Amount Insured on Farming Stock was upwards of 9,156,898*l.*

NEW RATES OF PREMIUM.—The Directors of this Society, with the view of meeting the wants and wishes of the large class of persons who prefer the present advantages of reduced Premiums to a prospective bonus in the shape of an addition to their Policies, have constructed a new scale, based on the safest and most approved data, viz., the Experience Tables, recently compiled by a Committee of Actuaries, from the records of seventeen of the leading London Offices.

The Society now offers the following advantages:—

The lowest scale of Premium which can be safely adopted.

EXAMPLE TO ASSURE £100 FOR WHOLE LIFE.

Age 20.....1*l.* 13*s.* 1*d.* | Age 30.....2*l.* 2*s.* 10*d.* | Age 40.....2*l.* 18*s.* 7*d.*

Other ages at proportionate rates.

Undoubted security, guaranteed by a large capital; an influential proprietary; the long standing of the Office, and the satisfactory results of its business.

Facility in settlement of claims. Liberty to travel in any part of Europe, without extra Premium in time of peace.

Loans equivalent to the value of the Policies.

To those who desire to secure the advantages of a prospective bonus, by a small additional outlay, the deed of settlement assigns four-fifths of the Profits.

Bonuses may be commuted for equivalent reductions of Premium at the option of the Assured, by which arrangement the amount originally assured may be kept up at a continually decreasing cost.

Insurances effected on joint as well as on single lives, for short terms or otherwise, and to meet any specified contingency.

The age of the life assured is admitted on the Policy at the time of effecting the Assurance, or at any other time, on production of satisfactory proof.

Every information and assistance will be given to Assurers, either at the Offices, No. 7, Waterloo-place, London; or by the Society's agents, established in all principal towns.

The Rates of Premium are those adopted by the principal Life Offices; the Rate without Bonus is lower than that of most other Offices.

The Bonuses are added to the Policies, or applied to the reduction of Premiums.

Polices issued by this Office are purchased at their full value; or Loans may be obtained upon them after they have been in existence five years.

If a party neglect to pay for the renewal of his Policy, he may repair the omission any time within twelve months, upon proof of good health.

The profits (subject to a trifling deduction) are divided among the Insured. The plan upon which they are divided gives to each party insured a share proportionate to the amount of the Premiums he has contribnted.

In addition to this advantage, an annual addition or Bonus is made to each Policy in anticipation of the Quinquennial Division of Profits.

The following extract from the List of Claims paid by the Provident is published with the sanction of the parties interested in the Policies, some of whom have accompanied their acknowledgment of the unexpected advantages with an earnest desire that the widest circulation may be given to the publication.

FIRE, LIFE, and MARINE ASSURANCES may be effected with this Corporation on advantageous terms.

The Assured are exempt from liabilities of partnership, and payment of their claims is guaranteed by a large invested capital-stock.

In the Life Department, assurances are granted with participation in profits, or, at lower premiums, without such participation.

The reversionary Bonus on Life Policies has averaged 2 per cent. per annum on the sum assured, or 46 per cent on the premiums paid.

Any sum not exceeding 10,000*l.* may be assured on the same life.

The Corporation bears the cost of policy stamps and medical fees, and requires no entrance-money. The Assured are subject to no expense but the premium. No extra charge is made for service in the Militia or Yeomanry within the United Kingdom.

Loans are granted on Life Policies to the full extent of their values.

The expenses of management, being divided between the different branches, are spread over a larger amount of business than that transacted by any other office. The charge upon each individual policy is consequently reduced to a sum so small as to account for the magnitude of the Bonus which has been declared, and to afford a probability that a similar rate will be maintained at future divisions.

This Corporation affords all the advantages of modern practice, with the stability of an office safely constituted under Royal Charter and special Acts of Parliament, and tested by the experience of nearly a century and a half. There is but one older Life-office in existence.

Further particulars may be obtained on application at the offices of the Corporation; or to the agents appointed in all the principal towns in the Kingdom.

JOHN A. HIGHAM, Actuary and Secretary.

N.B.—Tables of the Bonus to be declared in respect of the Seven years ending the 31st December, 1855, will be ready early in 1856. Thenceforward the divisions of Profit will be made every five years.

LIFE BRANCH.—SPECIAL NOTICE.—Stamps on Policies not charged.—Forfeiture of Policy cannot take place from unintentional mistake.—Other advantages, viz.:—The Guarantee of an ample Capital and Exemption of the Assured from Liability of Partnership. The Assured neither having to depend on an uncertain fund, nor being in any way accountable for the payment of claims.—Moderate Premiums.—Participation of Profits by the Assured, amounting to Two-thirds of its net amount.—Large Bonus declared 1855, amounting to 2*l.* per cent. per annum on the Sum Assured, being, on ages from Twenty to Forty, 80 per cent. on the Premium. EXAMPLES:

Date of Policy.	Age.	Sum Assured.	Premiums.	Bonus.

This last claim paid—£2,320.

Periods of Division—Every Five Years.

"Every fraction of the premiums received have been allowed to accumulate for ten years.—Expenses small without leaving one charge, provisional or otherwise, to be taken out of future premiums."—Vide Actuary's Report, 1855.

"The business presents itself in a most favourable view to every one who wishes to insure his life."—Vide Chairman's Speech, 1855.

"We may ask whether the public can have a better security than is now offered by the Royal Insurance Office, Liverpool."—Vide Alderman S. Holme's Speech, 1855.

"The first consideration of the Directors and the Management should be to secure the interests of the insured, so that the holder of a policy who has paid a premium to secure a property to his family may be made doubly secure."—John Torr, Esq., Director.

"Taking lives from ages 20 to 40, I find that the Reversionary Bonus given is full 80 per cent. of the premiums paid. It is not too much to expect, then, that, as I believe, no Company can offer superior advantages to the Royal Insurance Company, ultimately no Company will do a larger business."—Vide Manager's Speech, 1855.

FIRE BRANCH.—The Rates of Premium are exceedingly moderate, and governed in each case by a careful consideration of the risk proposed. Persons assured by this Company are not subject to any covenants or calls to make good losses which may happen to themselves or others, nor do they depend upon an uncertain fund or contribution, the Capital Stock of this Company being an unquestionable Security to the Assured in case of Loss or Damage by Fire.

The following Results were shown in the Report to the Shareholders of the Company at the last Annual Meeting, August 3rd, 1855:—

The Company has received in Fire Premiums alone, during the year 1854, no less than	£128,459 11 4
The Paid-up Capital at the date of meeting was	277,515 0 0
There is, in addition to this amount, a Surplus Fund (after paying a dividend) of	68,856 7 6
Total Paid-up and Invested Capital	£346,371 7 6

MEM.—The above amounts are irrespective of an AMPLE SUM, kept apart, to cover the Life liabilities of the Establishment.

The STANDARD LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY is one of the oldest and most successful of the Scottish Life Offices, and the Directors attribute its high position in public favour to the unremitting care bestowed on its management, to the liberality which has marked its dealings, to the facilities granted to its Policy-holders, and to the successful results of the business, as evinced by the Division of Profits.

PROGRESS OF THE BUSINESS.

It will be perceived, from the following results, that the Company enjoys a large share of public patronage:

RESULTS of the BUSINESS for the year ended 15th November, 1854.

Number of Proposals for Assurance made to the Directors during the year	1,265
Number of Assurance Policies issued, exclusive of Annuity and other transactions during the year	1,046

Sums in Policies issued during the year	515,117	7	0
Claims by Death, exclusive of Bonus Additions during the year	89,428	13	10
Annual Revenue at 15th November, 1854	218,968	16	5

Sums in Policies issued since 1844, £4,476,333 4s. 3d.

UNCHALLENGEABLE POLICIES AND FREE RESIDENCE IN ANY PART OF THE WORLD.

When a person formerly assured his life, he generally looked to the rate of Premium, the prospects of Bonus, and the general character of the Office, but seldom gave attention to the "Terms and Conditions" of assurance. Within the last few years, however, indeed since 1851, when this Company promulgated the system of "Select Assurance," admission to which renders Policies indisputable and unchallengeable on any ground whatever, the question of "Terms and Conditions" has become a most important point of consideration, and the day is quickly approaching when no one will hold a Policy from an Office which does not give similar advantages. What a boon it is to heirs of entail, to borrowers of all descriptions, to marriage trustees, in short to all classes, to know, that whatever may happen, wherever the Assured may go, the claim will be met at death, subject to one simple condition, that the annual premium originally stipulated be punctually paid!

DIVISION OF PROFITS.

The STANDARD LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY was established in 1825, and the Profits which have arisen on its business have already been divided on four occasions—in 1835, 1840, 1845, 1850—when large additions were made to the Company's Policies. For example:—

A Policy of £1,000, issued in 1825, received a Bonus of £873 up to November, 1850.

A Policy of £1,000, issued in 1830, received a Bonus of £633 up to November, 1850.

Policies of intervening dates, and later Policies, have also received large additions, according to their age and standing.

The Profits which have arisen in the five years ending 15th November, 1855, will be declared in February, 1856, for which all persons assured in the Participating Class will be entitled to rank according to the date of entry.

Every information can be obtained at the Offices of the Company in London, Edinburgh, or Dublin, or at the Agencies.

This Company offers the security of a large paid-up Capital, held in Shares by a numerous and wealthy Proprietary, thus protecting the Assured from the risk attending Mutual Offices.

There have been three Divisions of Profits, the Bonuses averaging 1*l.* 18s. 4d. per cent. per annum on the sums assured from the commencement of the Company.

Sums Assured.	Bonuses added.	Payable at Death.
£5,000	£1,987 10 0	£6,987 10 0
4,000	1,590 0 0	5,590 0 0
3,000	1,192 10 0	4,192 10 0

1,000	397 10 0	1,397 10 0
500	198 15 0	698 15 0

EXAMPLE.

A person aged 25, in 1834, who Insured his life for 5,000*l.*, at an Annual Premium of 107*l.* 5s. 10d., will have paid to this Company, on 31st December last, 2,253*l.* 2s. 6d. in Premiums, and have had a Bonus of 1,987*l.* 10s. added to his Policy, almost as much as the amount paid.

The Premiums, nevertheless, are extremely moderate, and only one half need be paid for the first five years, when the Assurance is for life.

Parties effecting Policies with this Office in Scotland will secure every facility and advantage which they can obtain by assuring with an exclusively Scotch Office.

LIFE.

The business of this Office embraces all Classes in every condition of Life within the United Kingdom, its Colonies and Dependencies; the Court of Directors being thus empowered by the Letters Patent.

No extra rates charged for residence in Europe or the temperate climates of the globe. Premiums may be paid yearly, half-yearly, or quarterly, or in one sum, or for a fixed period.

Short period Policies exchanged for Whole Life Policies, on payment of the extra rates, and re examination as to health.

DISTINCTIVE ADVANTAGES.

Assurers in this Office have an immediate, certain, and transferable Interest, in all payments on Whole Life Participating Policies after three years. Such Policies specially empower the owner, on surrender of the original, to claim a Policy freed from future payments (but still participating in Profits) for the amount fixed by Table C;* with a right to revive the original Policy, with all its equities, on payment of arrears of Premium, and re-examination of health; thus avoiding the heavy loss frequently sustained from inability or disinclination to keep up a Policy.

The actual Age of the Assured calculated.

The inconveniences from assignments of Policies removed by a Power of substitution.

The peculiarities of the health and habits of Assurers confidential with the Medical Members.

GUARANTEE FOR FIDELITY.

Objections to simple Guarantee Societies obviated by the combination of a Life Policy with the Guarantee Policy, the former being granted at a diminished rate, so that the honest employed obtains an immediate benefit from the payment by his employer of the Guarantee Premium.

Life Assurance Companies may be placed among the most useful institutions of modern times, and their increase shows that their value is daily becoming more appreciated. A very large proportion of the property of this kingdom is comprised in Entailed Estates, Estates held by persons as Tenants for Life, Church Property, Pensions, Annuities, Money receivable under Wills, &c.; all showing the importance of these Societies to the more opulent classes, while, in the middle ranks of society, there are now but few whose means of supporting their families depend upon their own personal exertions, or are derived from incomes which cease at their deaths, who do not gladly seize upon the means thus afforded them of leaving some provision for the future maintenance of their surviving dependants; in short, there are but few situations in life in which it is not desirable, at some period, to enter into a contract for Assurance.

ONE-FIFTH of the ascertained Profits of the five preceding years is divided between the Policy-holders and Shareholders; three-fourths to the former, and one-fourth to the latter. The remaining four-fifths are set apart to enter into the average of the succeeding years, and thus to provide against unforeseen contingencies.

The Annual Reduction of the Premiums arising from a participation in the Profits of the Society has averaged considerably above 40 per cent., and in no One Year has it fallen below that amount.

The following Table will show the operation of the reduction made by the Society on those Policies upon which six Annual Premiums have been paid:

Age when Policy was issued.	Sum Assured.	Original Premium.	Reduced Annual Premium for the Current Year.
	£	£ s. d.	£ s. d.
20	1,000	19 6 8	11 12 0
30	1,000	24 8 4	14 13 0
40	1,000	31 10 0	18 18 0
50	1,000	42 15 0	25 13 0
60	1,000	66 11 8	39 19 0

Thus it will be seen that the benefits arising from the Division of Profits will be experienced by each Whole Life Assurer on the payment of his Seventh Annual Premium. This system of reduction in the Premiums affords immediate benefit to the Assured, or enables them to secure a considerable Bonus by effecting a new Policy. Policies are granted in London, and by resident Committees at Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay, on Indian risks, at very advantageous rates, calculated from the records of the East Indian Government, showing the true risk of life during residence in India, and after retirement from foreign service.

AGENTS IN INDIA.—Messrs. BRADDON and Co., Calcutta; Messrs. BAINBRIDGE and Co., Madras; Messrs. LECKIE and Co., Bombay.

The Westminster Fire Office, established in 1717, is one of the oldest Offices for Insurance against Damage by Fire now existing: it has carried on an extensive and successful business for upwards of One Hundred and Thirty-eight years in the Metropolis, to which its operations have till very recently been confined, and during the whole of that period has maintained the highest character for respectability and liberality in all its transactions. As a proof of the just manner in which the claims on its funds have been met, it may be observed that it has only on one occasion been obliged to defend an action either in a court of law or equity.

From the well-known character and stability of the Office, the Directors can confidently recommend it to the notice of Insurers in those districts to which they are now extending its business.

The Council of the Royal Medical Benevolent College gratefully acknowledge the warm and extensive support which this much-needed Institution has met with, and continues to enjoy, at the hands of the Members of the Medical Profession and of the public at large. They have a pride and a pleasure in again availing themselves of an opportunity of recording their especial thanks to the Honorary Local Secretaries, to whose energy and zeal in the cause so much of its success has been due. The Council most cordially congratulate their Medical Brethren on the fact that the Institution is now in operation, and that there are several deserving Widows and Members of the Profession enjoying the benefits it affords. The numerous applications that are constantly being made for admission prove most palpably that the means at the disposal of the Council are far beneath the requirements of the case. Relying, however, upon the merits of their cause, which is truly one of the whole Medical Profession, and of all who have ever derived benefit from its Members; in full confidence and faith that the work, so well begun, will with its growth take a firmer hold in the affections, and receive a proportionately increasing support from their countrymen; the Council trust that by further support they may be able to receive, in the course of the ensuing year, an additional number of the deserving Applicants as Pensioners. The untiring zeal displayed by the Medical Profession at all times in the service of their brethren while labouring under disease, often at a sacrifice of health, and even of life, may reasonably be urged as a ground upon which to ask the Public for their generous support of the Royal Medical Benevolent College. The Council hope that those who enjoy affluence will not withhold their contributions; that those who cannot spare from their own incomes will use their influence with their friends; and that all will contribute as much as in them lies, by word or deed, to realize in full a plan which will redound to the credit and honour of all engaged in the enterprise. By order of the Council,

HENRY HANCOCK, F.R.C.S., Hon. Sec.
HERBERT WILLIAMS, Assistant Sec.

MUNSTER HOUSE, NEAR FULHAM,

THREE MILES FROM HYDE-PARK CORNER,

For the Care and Recovery of Nervous, Epileptic, and Insane Gentlemen.

Proprietor, Mr. CYRUS ALEXANDER ELLIOTT, Surgeon, late of Cowper House, Old Brompton.

ESTABLISHED 1825, BY MESSRS. ELLIOTT AND CO.

MUNSTER HOUSE, once the Hunting Seat of his Majesty King Charles II., contains twenty-nine rooms, and is situated on the road from London to Fulham, in the highest and healthiest part of the parish, and upon a gravelly soil. The pleasure grounds are eight acres, entirely walled in, ornamented with fountains and gold fish, statuary and rockwork, terraces and parterres, conservatories and summer-houses, and studded with noble trees and flowering shrubs; the whole offering most cheerful inducements for recreation, exercise, and amusement, which consists of a Bowling-green and Bowling-alley, Swings and Rocking-horses, Billiard and Reading-rooms, with Newspapers, Periodicals, and Musical Instruments, and a Library well stored with books.

An additional House (not seen in the view) has been built, containing a Hall, large and lofty Dining, Sitting, and Bed-rooms, seventeen separate rooms, Washing and Bath-rooms; the whole erected, arranged, heated, ventilated, and lighted with gas, under the sanction and advice of the Commissioners in Lunacy.

This Establishment has the advantage of being near to London, and yet as rural as any of our country villages. It is easy of access for Professional and other visits, by the Putney Omnibuses, every ten minutes from the Bank and London-bridge Railway Station, and it is also within three-quarters of a mile of the Putney Station upon the Windsor Railway.

EFFRA HALL, NEAR THE CHURCH, BRIXTON,

THREE MILES FROM THE BRIDGES,

For the Care and Recovery of Nervous, Epileptic, and Insane Ladies.

ESTABLISHED AT COWPER HOUSE, OLD BROMPTON, 1825,

BY MESSRS. ELLIOTT AND CO.

Proprietors, Mr. CYRUS ALEXANDER ELLIOTT AND CO.

The House, surrounded by its Lawn, walled-in Gardens, Meadow, and Orchard of Five Acres, has long been admitted to be one of the most beautiful and secluded residences in this well-known healthy locality, proverbial for its pleasant walks and varied scenery. The greatest care has been taken to render this Establishment a Domestic Home, rather than an Asylum in the general acceptation of the term; and being exclusively for the reception of Females, a greater extent of Liberty and Recreation is available than can possibly be obtained in houses where both sexes are admitted. The additions and detached buildings have been erected at considerable expense, on the most approved plans.

The Faculty are invited to view, in Effra Hall and Munster House, the arrangements expressly made for the various forms of Mental Disease, which have, by experience, been found to assist so materially the Medical and Moral Treatment, by affording Classification to the Insane, Quietude to the Nervous, and to the Epileptic those accommodations which are so particularly required.

Those patients whose cases permit are allowed (accompanied) to walk and ride into the country, and attend Divine Worship; and if change of air is considered requisite, will, by the request of their friends, be sent to the Sea Coast, where the proprietor has a cottage always in readiness.

Omnibusses pass Effra Hall every Five Minutes, from the City and Oxford-street.

For the Terms, which are strictly moderate, and Attendants, apply to T. Forder, M.R.C.S. and L.S.A., Medical Superintendent, as above, or to Munster House; and to W. V. Pettigrew, M.D., F.R.C.S. of England, 7, Chester-street, Grosvenor-place.

PRIVATE INSTITUTION FOR THE TREATMENT OF THE INSANE,

SANDYWELL PARK,

NEAR CHELTENHAM, GLOUCESTERSHIRE.

CONDUCTED BY DR. HITCH

(Many years Physician to the Gloucester County Lunatic Asylum).

SANDYWELL PARK has been long known as one of the most admired and healthful residences in the county of Gloucester. The Mansion is situated in a finely-timbered Park of 120 acres in extent, with Gardens, Plantations, and a Farm attached to it. It is on the Cotswold Hills, overlooking the Vale of the Severn, amidst varied and beautiful scenery; and though only five miles from Cheltenham, is perfectly secluded, and affords every facility of access without publicity.

The Mansion has been much improved and considerably enlarged, and by means of additional buildings has been made to consist of two houses attached to each other, effecting not only a separate residence for the two sexes, but a complete classification of patients, with accommodations for either sex, on any required scale; whilst the arrangements are such as to afford separation or social intercourse, according to the varied condition of each invalid, or the wishes of the relatives or friends.

This Institution, therefore, possesses all the requisites for the successful treatment of every form of mental disorder. It embraces the means of domestic quiet, privacy, and security from observation, without close confinement; facility for exercise of all kinds in the open air, and of amusements within doors, suited to the wants as well as to the tastes and habits of the invalid; and as the Physician and his family reside in the house, and live with the patients, the establishment assimilates itself to that of a country gentleman, with this advantage, that it combines the solace of domestic life, and the benefits of social communion, with the indispensable watchfulness of the medical eye.

There are also separate houses on the Estate for those Patients whose friends wish them to avoid association with others.

A Chaplain is also attached to the Establishment.

The Commissioners in Lunacy report, at their visit in March, 1848, "That the arrangements appear to be extremely judicious, and that altogether they have never seen any Private Establishment with which, in point of situation, construction, and means of varied exercise and amusements, they have had greater reason to be satisfied."

For any other particulars, or for terms (which will depend on the accommodations required), applications made to Dr HITCH, Sandywell Park, near Cheltenham, will receive every attention.

INSANITY.

TUE BROOK-VILLA, GREEN-LANE,

SITUATED ABOUT THREE MILES FROM LIVERPOOL.

Erected expressly for the care and cure of those invalids, of both sexes, whose mental afflictions render absence from home desirable and necessary.

BEST FOOD FOR INFANTS AND INVALIDS.

ROBINSON'S PATENT BARLEY

Is the only genuine article by which pure Barley Water can be made in ten minutes. It produces an excellent mucilaginous beverage, more palatable than that made from Pearl Barley. Mothers, during the anxious period of suckling, will find it cooling and nutritious. In constitutions when stimulant and fermented liquors are inadmissible, it is an ample and productive source of comfort both to the parent and infant. It is also strongly recommended for light suppers, food for infants, and makes a most delicious custard pudding; for which purpose it has been used by families of the first distinction, and will be found suitable for the invalid or healthy, the infant or aged. It is also highly esteemed as an adjunct with new milk for the breakfast table.

ROBINSON'S PATENT GROATS.

The nourishing qualities of Oats, from which Groats are made, are in this country so well known as to need but little remark. In Scotland the food generally used is from this source—the result is a strong and healthy population. Many eminent Physicians speak of Oatmeal as of a cooling nature, and consequently prescribe it in fevers; but it is no less beneficial as a general food when deprived of the bitterness and unpleasant qualities, which produce heartburn and acidity in the stomach. The process by which Robinson's Patent Groats are made entirely obviates this latter objection. They are the purest flour of the oat that it is possible to produce; thus they are pre-eminent as a food for children—giving energy to the robust and strength to the delicate. They are equally serviceable to those labouring under indigestion, and form an excellent supper for the invalid or healthy during the winter months.

The addition of a caution is too often unheeded, perhaps because it is so commonly added to an announcement of this kind; but the recent inquiries into the composition of the various articles of food show that the purchaser may often be imposed upon. ROBINSON, BELLVILLE, and CO. would therefore, while courting the fullest scrutiny into the quality of their Patent Barley and Patent Groats, desire to caution the Public not to be imposed on by receiving an article similar in external appearance but wholly different in other respects to that bearing their name.

The Proprietors of Robinson's Patent Barley and Patent Groats, desirous that the public shall at all times purchase these preparations in a perfectly sweet and fresh condition, respectfully inform the public that every packet is now completely enveloped in the purest Tin Foil, over which is the usual and well-known paper wrapper.

ROBINSON, BELLVILLE, and CO., Purveyors to the Queen, 64, Red Lion-street, London. Sold by Grocers, Druggists, Bakers, and others throughout the kingdom.

DR. JAMES'S FEVER POWDER.

"Mr. James thinks it necessary to inform the public that he has appointed Messrs. Butler and Harding, Chemists, 4, Cheapside, corner of St Paul's, London; and Charles Butler, M.D., 54 Lower Sackville-street, Dublin, his sole Wholesale Agents; the former for England, Scotland, &c., and the latter for Ireland. Of whom, and of their country agents, the public may obtain the genuine medicines, which are authenticated by the signature of R. G. G. James on the label of every packet, bottle, and box, as under.

"I have the testimony of the most eminent Medical men in favour of my medicine, proving that it is far more efficacious in its effects, more certain and more to be depended upon, than any of the spurious preparations to which my name is unjustifiably attached. (Signed) "R. G. G. JAMES."

OLEUM JECORIS ASELLI,

W. TWINBERROW

Begs respectfully to solicit the attention of the Medical Profession to the following Preparations, manufactured in his Laboratory, under his immediate superintendence; particularly that he has commenced preparing COD-LIVER OIL, of which, during the season, the preceding day's manufacture may be had the following morning. In consequence of the great caution exercised in obtaining the Liver quite fresh, and the delicacy observed in preparing it, his Oil will be found free from the least unpleasant smell or taste, and perfectly agrees with the description which Dr. Williams and others state genuine Cod-Liver Oil should possess. W. T. also recommends his which is really agreeable to take, and its medicinal effects in no way affected by the addition.

EXTRACT OF INDIAN HEMP,

Prepared expressly for him at Calcutta, its peculiarly sedative properties being so beneficial when opiates are inadmissible, and also to his

STRUVE'S MINERAL WATERS,

ROYAL GERMAN SPA, BRIGHTON,

UNDER HER MAJESTY'S ESPECIAL PATRONAGE.

STRUVE and CO. beg to direct attention to the above establishment, where for nearly thirty years past all the most efficient Mineral Waters have been prepared, and have been admitted by the best English and foreign authorities to be identical in physical properties and medicinal effects with the natural ones. Numerous attempts are, however, made to impose inferior preparations upon the public, by using Struve and Co.'s old bottles, imitating their labels and stamps, and by the use of the designation "Brighton Seltzer," "Brighton Fachingen," &c., while a careful analysis of some of these, stated to be prepared "according to the most accurate analysis," has shown the total absence of iron in the professed chalybeates, and a general disregard to their true chemical composition.

STRUVE AND CO. beg to state that they have not the remotest connection with any of these parties; and respectfully request the Public to observe carefully that the name of "STRUVE" is on the label as well as on both sides of the red stamp over the cork, which has the words "ROYAL GERMAN SPA, BRIGHTON," beneath the Royal Arms.

The frauds alluded to relate more particularly to the Seltzer, Fachingen, and Vichy Waters. Orders for Struve's Bottled Mineral Waters continue to be executed by George Waugh and Co., Chemists to the Queen, 177, Regent-street (West-Side), London, and by numerous other respectable houses in London and other towns, where a prospectus may be obtained gratis.

The Pump Room opens in May and closes in November.

IMPROVEMENT in EXTERNAL MEDICATION.

INCORPORATION IN SOAP

OF

MEDICINAL REMEDIES FOR EXTERNAL USE

Presents the following important advantages over Ointments, Salves, Plaisters, Oils, and other forms in which external remedies have been hitherto applied:

1. The Soap opens the pores, and promotes normal cuticular activity at the places where the remedy has to be absorbed; whereas oils or grease choke up the pores, thereby impeding the action of the remedy mixed up with them. Consequently, in Medicated Soaps a smaller portion of the remedy will produce the desired effect, and the dangers inseparable from strong doses of medicine are not incurred.

2. By the suppression of cuticular action oils and grease have an irritating effect of their own, by which the simple action of the remedy is complicated and perverted; they promote uncleanliness and deterioration of the skin; whereas good, perfectly neutralised Soap is a mere vehicle for presenting the remedy to a clean and well-acting surface.

3. Medicines can b incorporated in Soap in a more perfect state of solution than in oil, and can be kept, thus incorporated, for a very long time, and, under most circumstances, without changing or losing any of their properties.

4. Soaps admit of a much greater variety of applications than oils, and consequently greatly extend the field of external remedies (a desideratum with most thinking physicians of the present day), for they can be used:—

(a) For medicating baths, without inconvenience, tedious preparation, &c.

(b) As a wash with or without friction, being substitutes for baths where such are out of reach or contra-indicated.

(c) As an application directly on the skin, renewing it from time to time till sufficient of the remedy is absorbed, when it can be removed at once, and without painful friction.

(d) By applying the Soap on linen as a plaister or a poultice.

(e) By dissolving it in spirit and applying such solution.

The following pure and perfectly neutralised MEDICATED and HYGIENIC SOAPS are now ready, and may be procured at the Depots or through all respectable Chymists, in pieces of 2 ounces weight, a piece containing—

Either 1 dr. Iodide of Potassium,	Or 3 dr. Iron,
Or 2 dr. Camphor,	Or 4 dr. Tar,
Or 3 dr. Sulphuret of Potash,	Or 6 dr. Blacklead,
Or 4 ser. Iodide of Sulphur,	Or 4 dr. Ox-bile,
Or 3 dr. Oil of Turpentine,	Or 3 dr. Gum Benzoë,
Or 3 ser. Oil of Rosemary, 30 gr.	Or 3 dr. Gum Ammoniac,
Juniper Oil, 30 gr. Oil of Laurus,	Or made of Cod Liver Oil.

Also, Chlorine Soap, against Infectiou.

"March 1st, 1850.

"BROWN'S CANTHARIDINE TISSUE.—It presents peculiar claims to our notice in the inflammatory diseases of females and children, in whom the unpleasant consequences which so often follow the application of the Emp. Cantharides are most apt to occur. We have found it a reliable and peculiarly safe vesicant, and from the many trials we have given it, we are satisfied that it deserves the attention of the Medical Profession.

"Accompanying this article is a very simple and neat dressing."

"June 24th, 1850.

"Mr. Dalrymple presents his compliments to Mr. Brown, and is much obliged to him by his kindness in sending specimens of his Preparation for Blistering, &c Mr. D. delayed answering his present until he had had an opportunity of testing it in practice, and is most happy to acknowledge its utility, elegance, and cheapness, and he has recommended it with great satisfaction.

FRANCIS L. PUCKRIDGE,

Sole Inventor and Manufacturer of the late Mr R. Liston's

WATERPROOF TRANSPARENT ISINGLASS MEMBRANE PLASTERS,

Now patronized by Mr Liston's successor, Mr Quain, in his hospital and private practice; patronized likewise by Mr. W. Fergusson, Surgeon of King's College Hospital, Mr. J. M. Arnott and Mr Wormald of Bartholomew's Hospital. Used for Amputations and other serious wounds requiring observation without exposure to the air.

F. L. P. begs to state there are two qualities, and it is particularly beneficial for Spinal complaints, Ruptures, or any weakened part; likewise for Burns or Scalds, will remove the pain in a very short time. Also, a defensive Skin, to apply between the wound and the lint, and causes less pain in dressing. Likewise a superior Gauze Lisse, of the same adhesive properties as the Membrane. Also, superior Tinted Court Plasters, and Tinted Gold-beater's Skin, by the yard and in cases.

F. L. P. offers his most grateful thanks for the encouragement and kind patronage he has received from the Medical Gentlemen of England and foreign parts, and hopes to merit a continuance of their favours by manufacturing his Plasters with the same unremitting care as heretofore.

F. L. P. begs particularly to introduce to the surgeon-dentist, for tender gums, a delicate Plaster, that will adhere to the gold or ivory, and at the same time heal and protect the gums from pressure.

May be had of the Proprietor, 4, York-place, Walworth-road, Surgical Instrument-maker, Chemist, &c., with improved directions how to apply.

TARRATT'S

BANDAGE AND STRENGTHENING PLASTER.

This plaster, from the nature of the composition, and the material on which it is spread, is adapted for a permanent bandage, as it neither produces irritation of the skin, nor, when applied, does heat cause it to lose its adaptation to the part. Having these qualities, it is peculiarly valuable in the treatment of ulcerated legs, varicose veins, &c., where equal and constant support is required. Several of the most eminent surgeons continue to use this Plaster in their practice, preferring it in certain cases to any other. It is well suited for exportation, and use in warm climates, the high temperature having less effect on it than on any other plaster.

The Profession are referred to Messrs Westwoods and Hopkins, Wholesale Druggists, Newgate-street, where the Plaster may be had in packets, containing three yards, for 2s. 6d., or spread upon skins of chamois leather, at 3s. 6d.

Westwoods and Hopkins also call attention to their Compound Adhesive Plaster for fractures and wounds, as likewise to their Concentrated Preparations, Essences, &c.

HYGIENIC BATHS.

JENSON'S TONIC

DAPHNE MARINA SALT FOR BATHS

Will be found a most beneficial addition to hot, tepid, or cold Baths, where it is desirable to promote cuticular and capillary action.

The feeling of warmth and vigour, and the increased appetite, which for several days follow the use of this saline composition in a full bath far exceeds the effects of sea-bathing; while local bathing of rheumatic or weak parts with this salt has been found most effectual in restoring a normal state. Recommended by Dr. Andrew Ure, F.R.S., &c.

Sold by the Proprietor, C. MEINIG, 103, Leadenhall-street, and 213A, Piccadilly, London, and by all his Agents in Town, Country, and the Colonies.

N.B. Mr. Meinig will be happy to supply sample packets to any Medical Gentleman who may wish to test this valuable preparation.

PATENT GUTTA PERCHA SOLES.

THE GUTTA PERCHA COMPANY have pleasure in requesting the attention of the Public to the following selection of extracts o letters from

MEDICAL MEN

relative to PATENT GUTTA PERCHA SOLES:—

From Dr. Conquest, F.L.S., London.

"The peculiar non-conducting and electric properties of Gutta Percha render it invaluable equally in cold and hot weather, when affixed to the soles of boots and shoes. I would urge every one to use it who appreciates the inestimable blessing of health."

From John Taylor Gordon, Esq., M.D., London.

(Heretofore Physician to his late Majesty, and to H. R. H. the Duke of Cambridge, but now retired.)

"I find them the pleasantest wear imaginable—more durable than leather, and truly valuable on the score of health, as they preserve the feet from wet and cold."

From J. W. Metcalfe, Esq., York Asylum.

"The Gutta Percha Soles have had a fair trial in this institution, both amongst the patients and others, for a considerable period, almost since its first introduction, and the result has been decidedly satisfactory, both on the ground of comfort and economy."

From W. B. Herapath, Esq., Surgeon, Bristol.

"In reply to your inquiries respecting Gutta Percha Soles, I am happy to say that they fully accomplish the purpose for which they were intended, being warm, dry, and thoroughly waterproof, giving great comfort to the feet in winter; and they are also much superior to any leather sole ever worn by me."

From F. R. Horner, Esq., M.D., Hull.

"You ask me my opinion of Gutta Percha Soles. I beg simply to state, that I always use them myself during the six winter months at least, and take care that all the members of my family likewise do so. Further, I am in the habit of strongly recommending their use to my patients, as being an absolute preventative to wet feet."

From W. Watts, Esq., Surgeon, Newark-on-Trent.

"Having worn Gutta Percha Soles since their introduction, I have found them far preferable to leather, both as being impervious to wet, and more durable. I have recommended them with confidence to such of my patients as have been in the habit of suffering from damp feet, and invariably with the happiest results. I consider Gutta Percha Soles in every respect as valuable and as necessary to health and comfort as is flannel."

From J. G. M. Williams, Esq., Surgeon, Whitstable, Kent.

"The Gutta Percha, as a subtance for the soles of boots and shoes, appears to me most valuable; a pair done with the same, nine weeks since, and in constant wear upon a rough, gravelly, and flinty surface, appear now nearly as good as the first day of wear; and from what I can see, will outwear the upper leathers. I have experienced very great comfort in the wear of the soles, from the warmth they impart to the feet; this is in consequence of their being so thoroughly impervious to wet and damp, which is so highly important in the preservation of health."

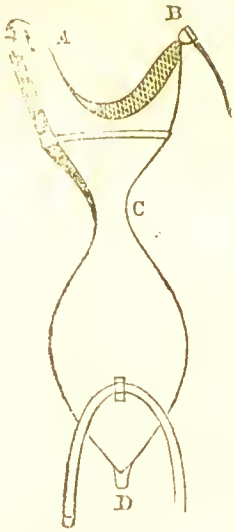
WALTERS' RAILWAY URINALS,

FOR TRAVELLERS AND INVALIDS.



This instrument is adapted for Ladies, Gentlemen, and Children: it is made of solid India-rubber, so that it is not decomposed or acted upon in the slightest degree by the urine. There is a valve which prevents the return of the fluid, and it can be worn with perfect comfort, either day or night, without being perceived by the closest observer.

F. Walters' Hydro-Pneumatic Enema Syringe.

The great objection to all Enema Syringes hitherto invented is the trouble which they give in using. This is entirely avoided by the use of the HYDRO-PNEUMATIC ENEMA SYRINGE. Instead of having to draw up and depress the piston continually during the whole time, it is only necessary to depress it twice. Being made in the form of a telescope, when out of use it is less than half the size of any other syringe which holds the same quantity of fluid. Being manufactured entirely of solid metal which will not corrode, it is not likely to get out of order. F. Walters will be happy to show it, and explain its use to all who will call on him for that purpose. Price 35s., with the usual professional discount.

Curvature of the Spine.

These cases require the greatest judgment, in order so to adapt the mechanical assistance that there may be support without undue pressure. F. Walters having paid great attention to the subject, and having studied anatomy at St. Bartholomew's Hospital, can confidently offer his services to those in the profession who may have Patients suffering under this disease.

Hot Fomentations.

WALTERS' INDIA-RUBBER BAGS for hot water will be found the most convenient and useful application for all cases of cholera, and whenever it may be necessary to apply heat to any part of the body. It is well known that, whatever may be the treatment for this disease, it is most important that the abdomen and the feet should be kept warm. Price from 12s. 6d.; by post, 15s.

New Truss for Hernia.

F. WALTERS begs to call attention to his New Truss, with improved water pad. The advantage of water is extreme softness, and the certainty of the pressure being always in the proper place. This Truss has received the approbation of the most eminent Surgeons, many of whom pronounce it the most perfect ever yet produced. Manufacturer of Trusses, Enema Syringes, and Anatomical and Surgical Instruments. Elastic Stockings to draw on without lacing. Suspenders for Riding and Hunting.

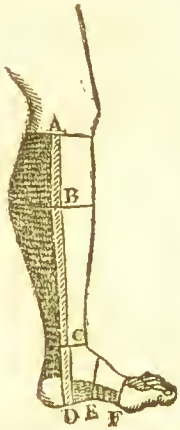
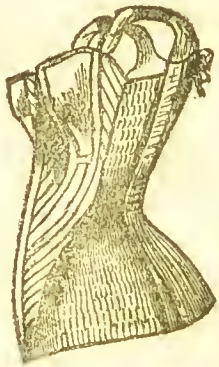
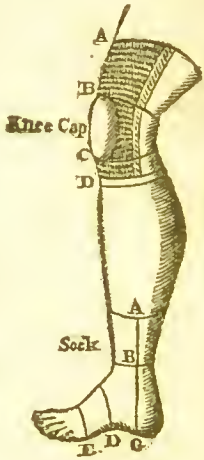
J. BRADSHAW begs particularly to call the attention of the Profession to the improvements he has made in the above articles, whereby all the objections hitherto existing have been overcome.

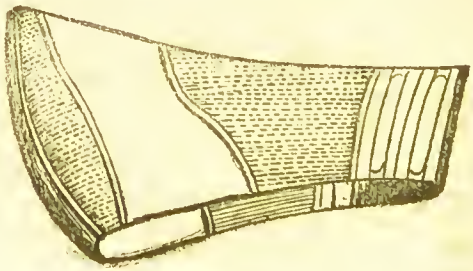
J. B. has likewise made arrangements for the Manufacture of all Surgical Bandages in India-rubber, vulcanized on a principle whereby the elasticity is preserved and not affected by climate, the Bandages being all made from patterns taken from each particular case; a perfect fit is secured thereby, preventing the many evils arising from undue pressure being applied to any part, which must always be the case providing the Bandage is not adapted to each particular case.

Prices, which will be found as low as other makers', notwithstanding the advantages offered, together with directions for measurement, will be sent on application, per return of post.









ARTIFICIAL LEGS AND ARMS.

HENRY BIGG AND SON,

Beg to invite the attention of the Medical Profession to a

SELF-ACTING ARTIFICIAL LEG

they have recently invented. By means of India-rubber Tendons the action of the Knee and Ankle-joints are rendered as perfect as those of the natural limb. The bucket, or that portion receiving the stump, is constructed on an entirely new principle, by which the patient is enabled to walk with the most perfect ease, and without the least fear of producing painful pressure against the stump, as invariably occurs in an ill-constructed artificial leg.

Messrs. Bigg and Son also beg to call attention to their numerous inventions in Orthopædic Mechanism, their Spinal Supports, Knee Instruments, Club-foot Shoes, &c., containing principles embodying the highest scientific mechanical skill.

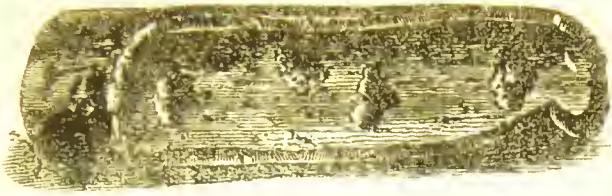
WATER POISONED BY LEADEN PIPES.



"The above engraving represents accurately a section of a leaden pipe, which was employed for a short time in conveying water from a well on the grounds of Mr. Dick, of Bonchurch, Isle of Wight. The water has cut these deep pits almost through the pipe, and not only upon the portion which we have illustrated, but has formed similar chasms throughout the entire length."—Expositor.

POISONED WATER PREVENTABLE

BY THE USE OF

GUTTA PERCHA TUBING.

The Gutta Percha Company have been favoured with the following letter

From Dr. MURRAY, Hull.

"It is impossible to conceive of anything more injurious or destructive to the health of the community than the use of leaden pipes for the conveyance of water. The poisonous salts of lead thereby communicated are most insidious and subtle. I hail with gratitude the substitution of Gutta Percha Tubing. I have had the leaden pipe of my own house removed, and its place supplied with one of Gutta Percha. Nothing can be better. I have also recommended it to others, who have adopted the expedient."

RESISTANCE OF FROST.

The Gutta Percha Company have been favoured with the following letters in reference to the non-conducting property of Gutta Percha Tubing, in the resistance of frost:—

From J. ARMSTRONG, Esq., M.D., Gravesend.

"My private house, which was supplied with your Gutta Percha Tubing some five or six years ago, has never required the slightest attention, and previously there was no winter passed that we were not almost deluged in consequence of the bursting of the old leaden pipes."

From HENRY BROWN and SONS, Western Works, 108, Rockingham-street, Sheffield.

"We have now a positive proof of the frost resisting properties of Gutta Percha Piping. On our premises we have a leaden pipe and a Gutta Percha one lying side by side. The leaden one has been completely frozen up at least ten days, and the Gutta Percha one is still unaffected."

Tubing of any Length and Size, with Jets, Union Joints, Roses, Spreaders, &c., may be had to order.

Every variety of Gutta Percha articles, such as Mill Bands, Tubing, Soles, Goloshes, Sheet, Pump Buckets, Fire Buckets, Bosses, Union Joints, Flasks. SPECIAL PRIZE MEDAL AT THE EXHIBITION OF 1851.
FOR GYMNASTIC APPARATUS AND SPINAL SUPPORTS.

DEFORMITIES OF THE SPINE.

This affection being generally the result of weakness and the loss of equilibrium of the muscular system, a course of Physical Education will prove the best preventive means. When deformity has taken place, Dr. Caplin's mode of treating this disease is both simple and efficient, rendering all irksome means unnecessary—in particular that of reclining, confinement at home not being even requisite. Thus, whether lateral, outward, or inward, curvature of the spine, if attended in its incipient stage, may be promptly and perfectly cured, and, even in its worst form, the appearance of the patient not only may be greatly improved by this system, but the pain almost immediately relieved, the health restored, and the mental condition and spirits renovated.

References and testimonials may be had, with the sanction of several families and patients, by applying to Dr. Caplin.

MADAME CAPLIN,

of the celebrated

HYGIENIC AND CORPORIFORM CORSETS, THE ORIGINAL ELASTIC BODICE, BELTS OF EVERY DESCRIPTION, AND SUPPORTS APPLIED TO ALL CASES.

Patronized by the most eminent members of the Medical Faculty; recommended by Dr. Locock, Her Majesty's Physician and Accoucheur, St. James's; and sanctioned by the following eminent Scientific Gentlemen composing the Jury for Class X:—Sir David Brewster, Chairman. T. H. Green, Esq., F.R.S., Hadleigh, Middlesex; Dr. Thomas Chadbourne, United States, America; Dr. Roux, France; Dr. L'Allemand, France; W. Lawrence, Esq., F.R.S. (Surgeon to Bartholomew's Hospital), Whitehall-place; James Philp, Esq., Surgical Instrument Maker, 67, St. James's-street.

Also by a Commission named by the Athénée des Arts et Sciences de Paris, composed of the following gentlemen:—Dr. Caron, Médecin de la Préfecture de la Police, &c. &c.; Dr. Genest, Ancien Chef de Clinique à l'Hotel Dieu, &c. &c.; Dr. Ribes, Ancien Médecin du Roi, &c. &c.

MADAME CAPLIN begs to inform Mothers of Families that she continues to make examinations of Children, and to give advice upon the rational principles of dressing them; which, when correctly understood, prove to demonstration that Bodices and Corsets, when well adapted and properly made, do not cause the evils generally attributed to them by medical and scientific men. The great error, in the usual mode of dressing Children, consists in placing all the weight of the clothing on the arms, pressing under the articulation, and causing the head and shoulders to bend forward, thus producing a stooping position, and, eventually, round shoulders, contraction of the chest, and a flattening of the ribs. The free action of the lungs is impeded, the general circulation affected, and the abdominal functions deranged. Hence the origin of many disorders in Children; amongst which weakness, debility, and deformities of the spine are most prevalent. These evils can only be prevented and obviated by resorting to a rational mode of dressing Children, and by adaptations strictly in accordance with the anatomical construction of the human frame and the physiological phenomena of its vital functions.

SUPPLYING VITAL OR FUNCTIONAL ENERGY TO ANY PART TO WHICH IT IS APPLIED.

Mr. MEINIG begs to call the attention of the PROFESSION to his ANNUAL REPORT of this Discovery, just published, which contains between 400 and 500 cases of chronic rheumatic, nervous, and functional disorders, relieved and cured solely by wearing these small portable apparatuses for a shorter or longer period. Many of these cases are reported by medical men of long standing, and it is now proved beyond the possibility of doubt, that these mild and continuous currents of Electricity, when kept up for some time, constitute a remedy, perfectly distinct from, and infinitely more effective in chronic cases than the galvanic treatment by shocks or violent impulses, hitherto followed; while the prescription and use of these small apparatuses is unattended by any trouble or inconvenience whatever.

Galvanism, as evolved from these portable Electro-Generators, acts as a gentle and most congenial stimulant of the whole vitality of the parts to which it is applied; and the range of diseases, in which a local stimulus of this nature is attended with the most beneficial results, may be said to be almost unlimited; for this form of Galvanic stimulation is never followed by reaction or weakness; it is applied directly to the parts on which it has to act, independently of digestive or other functions; strongly or weakly, continuously or intermittently, at option; and the Apparatus is now so perfect, that the patient can modify its action instantly, according to his sensation of the current, without undressing, and without trouble or inconvenience of any kind.

The invention has already been honoured by the unqualified approval of many eminent Members of the Profession; as of Dr. Golding Bird, Sir James Eyre, Mr. Ure, of St. Mary's Hospital, Dr. Spurgin, of the Foundling Hospital, &c., &c.; and Mr. MEINIG will be happy to afford every facility to Medical Gentlemen for the extensive trial and use of a remedy, which he is fully confident will, in a few years, take a very prominent place among therapeutic agents.

LIGHT-BROWN COD-LIVER OIL.

Testimonial from Dr. LETHEBY,

Professor of Chemistry and Toxicology in the Medical College of the London Hospital, Medical Officer of Health to the City of London, &c. &c. &c.

"I have frequently had occasion to analyse the Cod-Liver Oil which is sold at your establishment. I mean that variety which is prepared for Medicinal use in the Loffoden Isles, Norway, and sent into commerce with the sanction of Dr. DE JONGH, of the Hague.

"In all cases I have found it possessing the same set of properties, among which the presence of cholaic compounds and of iodine in a state of organic combination are the most remarkable; in fact, the Oil corresponds in all its characters with that named 'Huile brune,' and described as the best variety in the masterly treatise of Dr. DE JONGH.

"It is, I believe, universally acknowledged that this description of Oil has great therapeutical power; and, from my investigations, I have no doubt of its being a pure and unadulterated article.

BANK OF DEPOSIT,

NATIONAL ASSURANCE AND INVESTMENT ASSOCIATION,

3, PALL MALL EAST, LONDON.

Established A.D. 1844.—Empowered by Special Act of Parliament.

CAPITAL STOCK, £500,000.

This Association is composed of two distinct and separate branches:—the one comprising the business of a BANK OF DEPOSIT for the Investment of Capital; the other the ordinary transactions of Life Assurance.

BANKING DEPARTMENT.

The object of this Department is to afford a safe and easy mode of Investment, and to effect important improvements in the present system of Monetary economy, both as regards the security afforded to the Public and the rate of interest realised.

The plan of the BANK of DEPOSIT differs materially from that of ordinary Banks, in the mode of investing Capital—ultimate profit and security being the main objects regarded, the Board of Management principally employ their Funds in Loans upon vested Life Interests and other similar securities, and in the purchase of well-secured Reversions, a class of securities which, although not immediately convertible, it is well known yield the greatest amount of profit, combined with the most perfect safety.

RATE OF INTEREST.

The present rate of Interest is five per cent. per annum, payable half-yearly; and the Board of Management confidently anticipate that a careful and judicious selection from securities of the above description will enable them to continue this rate to the Depositors.

INVESTMENT ACCOUNTS.

Money is received daily, between the hours of TEN and FOUR o'clock. Investment Accounts may be opened with Capital of any amount, and increased from time to time, at the convenience of Depositors.

A Stock Voucher, signed by two Directors, is given for each sum deposited.

INTEREST.

The INTEREST is payable in JANUARY and JULY, and for the convenience of parties residing at a distance, may be received at the Branch Offices, or through Country Bankers, without expense.
